U. S., CANADA PLAN TO SWAP SPY SECRETS

Accord Extends Indefinitely Wartime Collaboration of Armed Forces.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States and Canada were disclosed today to have agreed on a full exchange of military intelligence — information on what other nations are up to.

The provision is one of a series of point-by-point agreements underlying a general accord to extend indefinitely the wartime collaboration of American and Canadian armed forces, persons familiar with the yearlong negotiations said.

They asserted privately that more than a score of specific understandings were reached before Washington and Ottawa jointly announced the overall agreement.

The formal statement made no reference to this background. But the disclosure of a compact for interchange of military intelligence has deep significance for at least two reasons:

1. Canada's geographic position along the polar cap air route over which any attack from Europe or northern Asia might come.

2. Canada herself is a recent victim of an atom bomb espionage plot involving Soviet Russia.

The agreement is not formalized in a treaty; and the decision is "a contribution to the stability of the world and to the establishment of the United Nations of an effective system of world security."

5-Point Program.

The announced agreement embraces a five-point general program designed to provide:

1. Interchange of individuals "so as to increase the familiarity of each country's defense establishment with that of the other country."

2. General cooperation and exchange of observers in connection with "exercises and with the development and tests of material of common interest." (Both the United States and Canada have had observers at the Arctic tests conducted by their respective armies).

3. Encouragement of standardized arms, equipment, organization, training methods and new developments.

4. Mutual and reciprocal availability of military, naval and air facilities in each country.

5. An underlying principle recognizing that none of the cooperative arrangements will impair the control each nation exerts over its own territory.

'FREEZE OUT' SUIT DISMISSED

A journal entry filed today in the Richland county common pleas court revealed that Edward J. Hultman, 341 North Townview circle, had dismissed his case against the Pryor Manufacturing company "without prejudice."

Hultman, former general manager of the company and a stockholder, charged M. H. Pryor, president of the company, with an attempt to "freeze him (Hultman) out" and sought a temporary restraining order and permanent injunction to prevent Pryor from selling the firm. The journal entry indicated agreement on the issue.

Hultman's action was filed Nov. 26, 1946. It asked that the common pleas court name a receiver for the firm to "conserve the assets." He contended that the proposed sale to a new and unidentified corporation was not bona fide and was an attempt to "freeze out" the plaintiff as a shareholder.

Hultman said he resigned his position with the firm on Sept. 3, 1946, and that he holds 12 shares of the company's stock as well as a debenture bearing the face value of $3,000. Pryor said that Hultman had been requested to resign but asserted that the company never intended to take advantage of Hultman.

CHINESE DOLLAR HOLDING STEADY

SHANGHAI —(AP)— The Shaky Chinese dollar, holding relatively steady in Shanghai at 14,000 to $1 U. S., was quoted in Nanking today at 8,000 to the American dollar, providing one more puzzle in China's tangled currency picture.

Associated Press Correspondent Harold Milks reported from Nanking that even at the 8,000-to-$1 rate, dealers refused to buy heavily.

The Chinese dollar fell to record low of 19,000 to $1 in Shanghai Tuesday, but has since recovered some ground.

Coal Ships Fight Their Way to London

Military Budget Cut Dangerous, State Generals

WASHINGTON—(INS)—Gen. MacArthur and Secretary of War Patterson spearheaded mounting opposition today to the proposed cut of one billion, 175 million dollars in national defense spending.

This slash, plus another 500 million dollar reduction in army funds for foreign relief and domestic civil functions, received the chief attention of legislators in advance of the meeting tomorrow of senate and house appropriations and taxing committees.

The four committees, totaling 102 members, will be called upon to pass on a subcommittee decision to slash President Truman's 1948 fiscal year budget by six billion dollars.

Patterson declared in a formal statement that Gens. Eisenhower and MacArthur had advised him that further cuts in the military budget "will invite disaster" and jeopardize occupation tasks in Germany and Japan.

The war secretary said that the proposed cut in military funds would force "major eliminations in the planned security structure of our country" and necessitate a reduction of 200,000 or 300,000 men in army strength.

Cables Protest.

A high capitol source revealed that MacArthur had cabled a protest over any further cut in his occupation forces in Japan with the warning that "we might as well pull out" if further reductions are in prospect.

This source stated that the five-star general referred to near-riots over food shortages in Japan, and had asked the government to send "either more food or more troops." He reportedly added that if there is too long a delay both food and troops might have to be dispatched to the Orient.

Sen. Gurney (R) S. D., chairman of the senate armed services committee, meanwhile, made public a memorandum from the navy, warning that a 500 million dollar reduction in its 1948 spending would render that arm of defense "practically immobile and impotent as an instrument of national policy."

The budget cut contemplates a 750 million dollar reduction in navy funds.

Letter Reveals Order For Korean Uprisings

SEOUL, Korea—(UP)—Police who staged a raid on Communist headquarters today found a letter purportedly written by a Red army official in north Korea ordering a Communist leader to instigate disorders in the American-occupied zone.

The letter allegedly was written by Maj. Nicholi Gusunof, education officer with the Soviet Red army at Pyong Yang, capital of the Soviet zone of Korea. It was addressed to Ho Hun, chairman of the South Korean Labor party, official Communist-front group.

The letter, police said, told Ho that in order to "strengthen the situation" of the Red army, a revolution should be timed to coincide with the forthcoming ministers' conference at Moscow scheduled for March 10.

Gusunof directed Ho to initiate the revolution by "agitating all students in South Korea to fight against schools and the United States Army Military Government."

South Korean students have been striking for the last two months, nominally against "military government interference."

The "disorder" according to the letter, also would aim at "wiping away the entire legislative body established by the United States Army Military Government in South Korea and to maintain a closer connection in the coming battle of destruction of South Korea."

Corporal Says He'd Be Happy To Hang Japs

TOKYO—(UP)—William Loring, 21-year-old regular army corporal from Morgantown, W. Va., volunteered today "as a very patriotic guy" for the job of executioner to carry out any death sentences imposed on Japan's major war criminals.

In a letter to the army newspaper, Pacific Stars and Stripes, Loring said he was "not a qualified executioner, but I learn fast and I think I could do the job very well."

He said he had read an article stating that the federal government had requested "qualified volunteer executioners" from Maryland state penitentiary, but did not find any.

He added that if he were accepted for the job "it would also save the government the trouble and expense of bringing one from the states.

"I am leaving my address with you in case they should want me for the job," he concluded.

FARM EXHIBIT DUE FRIDAY

The Ohio Farm and Labor Saving show will come to Mansfield today to give Richland countians a first-hand view of the latest in labor-saving ideas and devices.

The show will open at Young's implement store on Springmill street at 10 a. m. It will be open to the public until 4 p. m. There will be an admission charge.

The show will bring to Mansfield approximately 70 different ideas, methods and pieces of equipment for saving time and labor on the farm and in the rural home.

Most of the ideas will supplement the normal commercial equipment that can be purchased, County Agent George B. Ganyard said.

The show on tour in Ohio since Jan. 3, was developed by the College of Agriculture at Ohio State university. It is being exhibited under a joint sponsorship with the county extension service.

CRISLER DECIDES

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(INS)—It's official now. Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler will remain as head of the University of Michigan athletic department. He definitely has turned down an offer to become athletic director at the University of California.

ENGLAND PUT ON WAR BASIS DURING CRISIS

Emergency Committee Formed To Direct New Economic 'Battle of Britain.'

LONDON —(UP)— The fuel and power ministry said today that the "critical drop in coal stocks has for the moment been arrested."

LONDON — (INS) — The vanguard of a 100-vessel fleet which braved tempestuous seas to bring 250,000 tons of coal to blacked-out London entered the Thames river today and headed for the capital.

This announcement was the only good news brought to Londoners who—like the rest of Britain's 48 million persons — digested the gloomiest headlines since those telling of grim reverses during the war.

All Britain was, in fact, virtually on a wartime footing following extension last night of the power shut-off and invocation of new emergency measures designed to break the nation's economic crisis.

Icy winds and freezing temperatures accompanied the first day of the extended fuel cuts throughout Britain.

News of the government decision to return England to the darkness from which it was delivered by the victory over Germany came as the sharpest shock to Londoners. They viewed this as the worst news yet.

Under authority of defense regulation 55, Prime Minister Clement Attlee's government ordained new moves, extending electricity restrictions to the whole of the United Kingdom.

Cabinet In Session.

In the face of an official warning that the fight against the coal crisis must be pressed with "the same speed and urgency as a military operation during the war," Attlee's cabinet was meeting today to consider additional measures.

A draft of unemployed workers to assist in the frantic efforts to transport vitally-needed coal supplies was thought to be among the measures slated for consideration.

The government invoked sweeping measures last night to mobilize labor and transport, requisition coal and cancel passenger rail service where necessary.

A special emergency committee was established, with Attlee as chairman, and members of his cabinet as aides. This group is to direct the economic "battle of Britain."

Emergency Measures.

Among the emergency measures already taken were these:

1. The transport ministry was instructed to mobilize trucks for unloading coal cars, allowing "empties" to return to the pits;

2. The fuel ministry was authorized to requisition coal supplies whenever necessary, and divert coal from original consignees to permit speed-up of coal distribution;

3. Permission was given to utilize additional London docks for receiving coal from northern mines;

4. Imposition of penalties for violation of the five-hour ban on domestic power consumption. These ranged from fines of $400 and three-month jail terms upon summary conviction, to $2,000 fines and two-year terms upon indictment and conviction.

Students' Fines Help Loan Fund

COLUMBUS—(AP)—The student loan fund at Ohio State university has been enriched $2,980 in the last seven months—an all-time record—from fines assessed for violation of the school's traffic rules

The student court, now in its 20th year, assessed the fines, and sent the money to the loan fund. The fund has received more than $10,000 in such fines since 1927.

$150,000 Radar Unit To Be Set Up In City

Site to Be Selected By ANG's Board Of Specialists.

Plans for the establishment of a $150,000 Air National Guard radar unit in Mansfield for the training of men in aircraft warning and communication system were announced today by Maj. George M. Kinsey, ANG communications officer.

Maj. Kinsey said he had completed preliminary investigation of possible sites. The unit, housed in five buildings with $85,000 worth of intricate radar and radio equipment and 22 vehicles, probably will be located at the Municipal airport, he said.

Final selection of the site will be made by a board of specialists who will arrive Monday. After the site is selected and a complement of three officers and 46 enlisted men recruited, actual construction will get underway.

* * *

City Called 'Key Spot.'

Maj. Kinsey said it was expected that the unit would be installed "within several months."

Mansfield would be a "key spot" in the relay of information between Toledo, Cleveland, Columbus and Dayton, he said. Because of its location, the Mansfield radar station would prove strategic in determining the position of aircraft in the north central Ohio region.

As outlined by Maj. Kinsey, the radar unit here would be capable of determining the location, number and height of aircraft within an area of 200 miles.

* * *

Value In War and Peace.

He also pointed out that such a unit would prove of inestimable value in case of emergency, both in war and peacetime.

The unit could aid commercial aircraft lost in fog or storms by directing the pilot to the nearest airport.

The portable equipment could be mobilized within a 24-hour period for transfer to other areas in an emergency.

Maj. Kinsey asked all persons interested in joining the reserve radar unit to call John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce. Routzon will act as temporary "information center" until a permanent officer has been assigned.

* * *

Recruits Not Restricted.

Maj. Kinsey emphasized that members of the radar unit are not restricted to former AAF officers and enlisted men. He said anyone interested in receiving training in radar and electronics may join the Air National Guard, including former navy and marine corps members or men between 18 and 35 who have not belonged to any service organization.

A fighter interception controller with the rank of captain will head the unit. Another officer with similar training will hold the rank of first lieutenant, and another lieutenant will act as aircraft control and warning officer.

* * *

Pay on Army Scale.

Enlisted men will include 22 radar operators, and a number of radar repairmen, radio repairmen and other technicians.

The unit would meet for a two-hour session weekly, and would receive a full day's pay, Maj. Kinsey said. The unit also would hold a two-week summer maneuver, for which the men would receive full pay and allowances. Uniforms will be furnished.

Brig Gen. Chester Goble, Ohio adjutant general, has backed establishment of the unit in Mansfield, Maj. Kinsey said.

'COME EARLY,' GUESTS TOLD

Doors For Chamber Dinner Open at 5:45; All Must Be Seated By 6:30.

"Get there early!"

That's the watch word of the 35th annual membership dinner of the Chamber of Commerce and the Manufacturer's club to be held tomorrow night in the Coliseum for a record crowd of more than 1,300 persons.

Doors will be opened at 5:45 p. m. All guests must be seated by 6:30 to permit the program to be carried out on its split-second schedule.

Only special guests will be given reserved places at the tables. These will include the principal speaker of the evening, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale of New York City; Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield, C. I. Weaver, president of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce; H. C. Atkinson, executive vice president of the Ohio chamber, and Murray D. Shaffer of Mansfield, newly-appointed state highway director.

* * *

Move Chairs Today.

Gov. Herbert is scheduled to arrive in Mansfield around 5 p. m.

Getting a jump on tomorrow's accelerated program, dinner committees began moving chairs and tables to the Coliseum today, preparatory to the 6:15 a. m. "push" on equipment tomorrow.

Trucks and employes from Mansfield industrial plants will erect the 20 by 30 foot stage in the west end of the Coliseum tomorrow morning. A special electrical circuit will be installed to furnish power to the electric ranges and roasters which will be used to prepare more than a ton of food. Also to be installed tomorrow will be a dressing room to accommodate 100 persons. All this will be done by late afternoon.

Workers at the Coliseum will be served their lunch at their work tomorrow.

C. L. VanDerau, general chairman of the dinner, said that tearing down operations will begin at 6:15 a. m. Saturday and that by 5 p. m. Saturday, all tables and chairs will be back in industrial cafeterias and the Coliseum will be returned to "normal."

In addition to the speakers, the banquet will feature a constant program of entertainment.

Ammonia Leak Causes Blast In Restaurant

A leak in the ammonia cooling system was blamed today for an explosion that blew out a large front window in the George Gazdak restaurant at 745 Bowman street at 1:45 a. m.

Called to the restaurant at 1:55 a. m., firemen from No. 2 station said they found the building full of ammonia fumes.

The explosion woke Mrs. Vincent Tipul, Gazdek's daughter, and her husband who occupy an upstairs apartment. The fumes forced the Tipuls and a roomer, Joe Deley, to flee.

This Plate Must Keep Bad Taste In Tojo's Mouth

DALLAS —(INS)— Parents of a Dallas naval dentist today learned that the upper plate worn by former Jap premier Hideki Tojo bears a morse code inscription reading: "Remember Pearl Harbor."

Lt. Jeff B. Bruton, 24, and two other Texans are responsible, a letter from the dentist stationed in Japan said.

Bruton and Jack R. McMahon, Longview, and Clifford Ochsbein, Texarkana, all graduates of Baylor Dental school in Dallas, recently were ordered to Sugama prison to make impressions for new false teeth for Tojo.

BLAST SINKS BOAT AT HAIFA

MacMillan Replaces Barker as British Commander in Palestine.

JERUSALEM —(UP)— Explosions occurred aboard two government boats in the Haifa Harbor today, sinking one of them immediately.

The first explosion was on a government fisheries department launch. The bottom of the vessel was blown out, and it sank.

A short time later a military landing craft was blasted. No casualties were reported on either vessel.

Meanwhile, Lieut. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan arrived today to become British military commander in Palestine, succeeding Lieut. Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker.

Returns to England.

Barker has left for England, where he will command a home area. MacMillan, director of weapons and development at the war office, was named last October to succeed Barker, who was then under heavy fire for forbidding fraternization of British soldiers with Jews.

The new military commander found Palestine tense and ready for trouble. Heavy military security were in effect, and there were minor outbreaks between Jewish underground forces.

Meanwhile, the usually well-informed Tel Aviv newspaper Mishmar said a new scheme for Palestine would be put before the British cabinet for early consideration.

The newspaper, declining to identify its sources, said the plan called for a "federated states of Palestine" with a setup similar to the federated Malay states—embracing two states, Jewish and Arab, with independent governments, and a federal area under the British high commissioner.

Predicts 950,000 New Homes In '47

WASHINGTON—(UP)—The labor department reported today that 58,000 new homes were completed in December, bringing the total for 1946 to 454,000. The December total was high for the year.

The department predicted that 950,000 homes will be completed in 1947.

BURGLARS GET $400 IN SENIOR CLASS FUNDS

Money to Have Been Used to Buy Caps, Gowns, Commencement Supplies.

Burglars blasted open a safe in the superintendent's office at Madison high school last night, taking nearly $400, most of it senior class money intended for caps and gowns and invitations for commencement exercises.

Sheriff's deputies said the burglars used nitro-glycerine to open the safe and apparently were "professional" safe crackers.

The missing funds also included receipts from cafeteria sales, rental of combination locks to students and funds for the high school annual, Olan La Rue, school superintendent, reported.

The school has been burglarized nearly a dozen times in the past 18 years, but this was the first time any large amount of money was stolen, Principal Wayne E. Miller said.

Deputy Sheriff Norman Smaltz, termed the safe-cracking a "professional job." The safe door had been blown open without extensive damage to the safe, he said.

Smaltz, aided in his investigation by Paul Martin of the Mansfield police department, reported finding wet nitro-glycerine still sticking to the safe.

* * *

Enter Through Window.

Entrance to the building, located on the Ashland hill was made through a window in the boiler room. The burglars then broke a glass to enter the superintendent's office.

A door lock was smashed by the burglars in leaving the building, Smaltz said.

The safe-cracking was discovered by the school janitor, Harold Snyder, when he opened the building at 6:30 a. m. today.

STATE SURPLUS CAUSES WORRY

COLUMBUS —(UP)— Financial worries—the common ground of housewife, labor, industry and other groups—plagued the state legislature today.

Two big questions must be answered soon if a long legislative session is to be avoided. What should be done with the $161,000,000 surplus? How much money should be spent in the 1947-48 biennium?

Of great importance, also, is the assembly's problem of whether to provide only for the next two years or to adopt the long-range financial program of state tax commissioner, C. Emory Glander.

House and senate leaders praised Glander's 20-point tax revision program and many of his recommendations would be carried out in bills before the two houses—but there has been no concerted effort to revise Ohio's tax structure on a permanent basis.

Legislators have at least two opinions on the use of the $161,000,000 surplus. Some say it is senseless to have such a large fund idle, others that the money will accomplish much more in several years when costs of constructing improved state facilities have decreased.

Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, Republican, and retired Gov. Frank J. Lausche, a Democrat, both are on record favoring use of the surplus for capital improvements only. The Republican house majority decided upon this course in a party caucus.

FUMES KILL TWO

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Two men died here yesterday, apparently victims of fumes from radiant gas heaters in their respective rooms in the same house. The dead: Shelley Justice, 58; George Wilkes, 71.

STATE MUSIC SUPERVISOR FINDS PUPILS LIKE OPERA, SYMPHONIES

By GEORGE COMINOS

Miss Edith M. Keller, state music supervisor, who is visiting Mansfield schools today, is convinced that school children are learning to like good music.

Some weeks ago Miss Keller visited a rural grade school classroom.

"What is your favorite radio program" she asked.

Most of the pupils said, "Gene Autry."

Further inquiry, however, brought out that some had listened to the Metropolitan Opera broadcast of "Hansel and Gretel," some liked to hear Marian Anderson, the Telephone hour, the Ford hour, and other better class radio programs.

It was a pleasant experience for Miss Keller because, in her words, "Music is for every-day living."

MISS KELLER

"MUSICAL EDUCATION should begin in the elementary schools," she said during an interview. "It is in the elementary grades that you discover talent and develop love and appreciation of music."

She added that "interest should also be developed in the home through interested parents."

Miss Keller emphasized that inability to sing or play an instrument should not be a deterrent to the enjoyment of good music.

"Interest can be developed in hearing good music over the radio, in musical films and concerts," she said.

That's why she believes that "interest and appreciation of music should be a part of every day experience in all phases of classroom work."

"Not all children," she observed, "can make a contribution

HUGE WAVES POUND HAWAIIAN COAST

HILO, Hawaii —(UP)— Fifty-foot waves pounded the northeast coast of Hawaii today, causing one death and sending residents in the Kekaha area to higher ground.

Tom Ai, 17, Hilo, drowned when a high wave carried him to sea while he was spearing fish 200 yards off shore.

Airline pilots said waves were dashing spray a hundred feet in the air along some parts of the coastline cliffs. No major damage was reported but all shipping was ordered removed to Hilo harbor. The Kawaihai wharf was reported sagging as a result of a two-day beating by high waves.

LATE NEWS BULLETINS

Police Fear Missing Girls Dead.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Two holes in the ice of the Scioto river and information from other children caused police today to believe that Cathy Ann Barry, 4, and Virginia Shoaf, 5, who disappeared from their homes yesterday fell through an ice crust and drowned.

Truman Says Nomination Stands.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman "hasn't the faintest intention" of withdrawing David E. Lilienthal's nomination for chairman of the atomic energy commission.

Rocket Plane Tested.

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Northrop Aircraft disclosed today that America's first military rocket plane—perhaps the world's first—was flown from isolated Harper Dry Lake on the desert July 5, 1944, and then was placed on the army's list of top secrets.

Italians Stage Protest.

ROME—(UP)—A new outbreak of demonstrations attributed to unemployment and the high cost of living was reported today at Gallipoli near Bari.

Rites Saturday For Man Killed In Train Crash

LOUDONVILLE — Funeral services for William Henry Brenneisen, 71, killed instantly at noon yesterday when he drove his car into the path of a westbound Pennsylvania freight train at the North Market street crossing, will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the Gilbert funeral home.

Rev. Harold T. Grieser will officiate at that time. Burial will be in Loudonville cemetery. The body will remain at the home until 10 a. m. Saturday.

Mr. Brenneisen's death was termed "accidental" by Ashland County Coroner A. C. Lewis of Jeromesville. The victim was a well-known farmer and operated an apple orchard west of Loudonville.

Born June 7, 1875, Mr. Brenneisen spent his entire life at his farm home west of Loudonville and for 20 years served as a member of the Hanover township school board.

Survivors include his widow, Mary; one son, Richard of near Pinkney; two daughters, Miss Helen Brenneisen at home, and Mrs. Grace Kettering of Ashland; two brothers, Allen of near Loudonville, and George of Lucas; and two sisters, Mrs. Laura Sauer of Mansfield and Mrs. Bertha Winters of Lucas.

Whippets End Home Schedule

SHELBY — The Shelby Whippets will close their home cage season Friday night when they entertain Galion here in a Northern Ohio league tilt.

The Whippets have won three out of five league games, while the visiting Tigers have only won two out of five. In an earlier non-league game, Galion defeated Shelby, 29 to 24.

Coach Charles Williams' quintet will close the regular basketball schedule at Crestline in a league game Feb. 21.

Two other official league tilts are scheduled for Friday night. Bellevue will be seeking to clinch a share of the championship when it entertains Crestline and Norwalk travels to Willard.

Bellevue is tied with Upper Sandusky for the league lead and a win this week will give the undisputed first place as Upper Sandusky goes outside of the circuit to play Carey. The Upper Sandusky five can gain a share of the title by defeating Bucyrus Feb. 21.

In the only other league game Friday night, Bucyrus travels to Port Clinton.

Rebels Are Target For Big Jumpin' Joe

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— The Cleveland Rebels were to be the target tonight for Jumpin' Joe Fulks' attempt to set a new basketball scoring mark.

Fulks and his Warrior teammates take on the Rebels in a Basketball Association of America clash at Philadelphia with the 6-foot, 5-inch Fulks shooting for an all-time record of 1,000 points.

Two Grid Combines Feature Cage Play

Featuring play in the Intramural basketball league at the Senior high school tomorrow noon, will be the roughhouse contest between the St. Pete's Hellcats and the Terrible Tygers.

Both squads are composed of members of Coach Paul Snyder's 1946 football team and they have announced that there will be no officials.

In the first tilt the Cadets meet the Shop Lifters. The first game starts at 11:30.

Sullivan Club Trips Ruggles

ASHLAND—Sullivan pulled the upset of the Ashland county tournament by topping Ruggles, 19 to 16, at the Ashland college gym last night. It was the first victory in 21 games for Sullivan.

Savannah's victory over Polk, 36 to 32 proved costly to the Sailors. Jim Emmons, Saannah junior center, suffered a possible skull fracture in the closing minutes of the second quarter.

Emmons had scored 13 points up to that time. Savannah meets Jeromesville in the top game on tomorrow night's card at the Eagle gym. Jeromesville edged Hayesville 38 to 36 in an overtime last night.

In the other contest, Perrysville defeated Nova 53 to 31. In the remaining tourney games tomorrow night, Perrysville meets Polk, and Sullivan takes on Hayesville. The first contest is at 7 p. m.

Not so peppy, would you?

Regardless of your age, you'd feel old, slowed up, logey, sluggish. You'd drag; you'd tire easily; everything you did would take extra effort. Well... that's exactly what's happening to your sludge-choked engine. It's dying on its feet, smothered with sludge. And no ordinary namby-pamby flush is going to budge that sludge.

A Motor Hi-Klonic will do it . . . special hot solvent . . . agitation . . . suction, scientifically combined will get every gooey, sticky drop, make your engine really clean, restore new car pep, power, pick-up.

. . . and it takes just a few minutes. See this Miracle happen while you wait. Drive a car that thrills you with its response to every request. Drive in tomorrow.

3—In Memoriam

IN MEMORY of our loving daughter Lois I. Welty, who passed away one year ago today, Feb. 13, 1946.
Just one year ago you left us,
How we miss you daughter dear.
We remember all your kindness
As we shed a silent tear.
But you left us to remember.
None on earth can fill your place.
Though you're gone, you're not forgotten
Never shall your memory fade.
Loving hearts, will often linger
Around the grave, where you are laid.
But we know that you are happy
In the Mansions of the Blest.
Where there is no pain, or sorrow,
In one eternal rest.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father,
Sisters and Brothers
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Welty
And Children.

IN MEMORY of Suzanna Hammell who died February 13th, 1946.
No one knows the silent heart-ache
Only those who've lost can tell
Of grief we bear in silence
For the one we loved so well.
Friends may think we have forgot you
When they see us smile,
Little do they know our sorrow
That is hid behind a smile
Words can't tell how we miss you
How we miss your smiling face
But you left us to remember
None on earth can take your place.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Joyce
Children and Great Grandchildren

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY FOR A SELECT GROUP OF YOUNG MEN

When the Japanese were on our very doorstep in the Aleutians, you read of the bitter fight put up by the famous 7th Infantry Division, and how these gallant fighters were first to drive the enemy from our own soil. Then on to Kwajalein, Leyte and Okinawa, the 7th blazed a trail of heroism that will long be remembered.

Today this same U. S. Army unit is stationed in Korea, famed scenic spot of the Far East. It is performing the very vital job of occupation. But the men of the 7th are having a far different time of it now than they did on Attu. They have swimming facilities, tennis courts, recreational clubs and many other opportunities for sports. They are living more comfortably than ever before. They are sightseeing and having high adventure in a strange land.

A select group of picked young men are now offered the opportunity of proudly joining the "Hourglass Division." You may be one of the eligible ones. If so, after initial training in the U. S., you may join right up with the 7th if you enlist now in the Regular Army for a 3-year period.

Remember, overseas pay is 20% higher, so a Private starts at $90 a month in Korea, in addition to food, clothing, quarters, etc. Get full details today at U. S. Army Recruiting Station, P. O. Building, Mansfield.

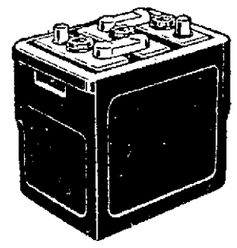
ANNOUNCEMENT!

We Are Again In the

BATTERY BUSINESS



During the war, we discovered that the batteries we were receiving were of an inferior quality and not up to the standards we could conscientiously sell our customers. At that time we notified all our suppliers to cancel all shipments until they could again ship top quality batteries. For several years we did not sell a single battery because we felt that unless we could sell our customers first quality batteries, we would rather not sell any at all. Last week we received a telegram notifying us that a shipment of pre-war quality batteries was on the way, and they are now in stock. We are happy to once again solicit your battery patronage. For free installation in our new service department, just drive your car to our side entrance.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you

Try and Stop Me

—By Bennet Cerf

Paul McNutt, the Federal official, went for a ride in a horse-drawn hack one day in Washington for relaxation purposes. As the hack moved slowly over the Potomac bridge, Mr. McNutt fell to wondering if the driver had ever heard of him.

"Ever heard of Paul McNutt?" he questioned idly.

"You bet," was the reply.

"Remarkable man, isn't he?"

"Yep, sure is."

"Intelligent, too."

"Yes. Yes indeed."

"And," persisted McNutt, "he is a very good-looking man, isn't he?"

"Yes, sir," said the driver. "And don't he know it!"

* * *

A heroic incident of the war came to light recently when a former sailor was being interviewed on the radio. He was asked, "Were you ever a sea hero?"

"Sure," came back the reply. "I saved the whole crew of the Tuscaloosa once."

"Really? How'd you do that?"

"I shot the cook."

WORLD HEADED FOR NEW WAR, LECTURER SAYS

Civilization Is Threatened By U. S.-Russian Conflict.

By VIRGINIA LEED
N-J State Correspondent

ASHLAND — Cecil Brown, Mutual Broadcasting system commentator, told an Ashland college lecture concert series audience last night that the world is headed for a war which "will destroy civilization" unless American foreign policy is based on a desire for peace rather than a fear of Russia.

"Even at United Nations meetings," he said, "preparations for war are evident in the agreements and discussions.

"Russia and the United States are now engaged in a gigantic battle for balance of power—a sure foundation for eventual war. Mayle not in 10 or 15 years, but eventually.

"Fear of Russia is evident in British and American backing of undemocratic principles over the world," he said.

Cites Greek Monarchy.

As examples, he cited British baking of the return of the Greek monarchy to head off Russian penetration of Greece; United States and British support of the Italian House of Savoy to prevent the rise of Communism, and the championing of Fascist Franco of Spain to establish protection of Gibraltor against Russian attack.

Part of the democratic program in Japan is promoted in the hope of Japanese favor in a future war with Russia, he said.

The British are "stabbing the Jews in the back in Palestine" to curry favor from the Arabs for fear of Russian expansion, he said.

Germany can be the springboard for a future war, he said. Brown advocated continued occupation of Germany, despite the huge cost to the taxpayer.

'Germans Are Nazis'.

"The Germans are still Nazis, reactionaries and militarists," he said.

Communism cannot be destroyed by its denunciation, he said, but by proving the superiority of our own system of government. This is made difficult, he said, by individuals such as Senator Bilbo, who advocates the same things for Mississippi that we have denounced in recent Polish elections.

Prospects for peace, Brown said, hinge on individual responsibility. Hope for peace lies in a speedy evolution of the United Nations into a world government. People of all nations must be willing to give up enough to establish the general pattern of peace. The United States can lead the way, he said.

The Ohio Safety Council suggests: "A minute for safety is better than a month for repairs."

This present period may go down in history as the era when men tried to substitute magic for the Ten Commandments.

Remember that, after all, a "February thaw" is no assurance that Spring is "just around the corner"—better check up on that coal supply.

Socialism Under Actual Test In Britain

IT WOULD be unfair to blame the present serious crisis in Great Britain entirely on the Labor government. A great many factors have contributed to it. For example, Britain which has not been able to produce enough for its own consumption is trying to carry on a vast export program to hang on to its world trade.

War devastated the country. The people are tired of deprivations. They put forth superhuman efforts to beat an enemy from without and now they find themselves overwhelmed from within.

Of course, the Labor government cannot be entirely excused either. Any government must share in the onus of its people's troubles. In fact, the record seems to hint that the British might have been wise to confine their experimenting with socialism to collective farms and communities as the United States did in the last century. Then the socialist experimenters would be swamped in their own folly without dragging down a whole nation.

Collectivist enterprises in which the worker was to get everything were tried a century ago in New England, in Ohio and in a number of other parts of the country. They failed not because they were comparatively small undertakings—that was the brightest first promise of their success—but because of the inherent weakness in the system. That weakness is a lack of incentive.

When workers go to parliament they are legislators and not workers. When workers become cabinet members they are statesmen, good or bad, but they are not workers.

Labor is wise to make every effort to keep its friends in places of power but when labor abandons productive work everyone suffers. The cold wave has merely precipitated a crisis in England that was bound to come sooner or later.

It is impossible for the British to run their country forever on a margin of borrowed U. S. and Canadian capital. Neither can the British govern a world empire if they cannot manage their affairs at home—even though the circumstances are not entirely of their own making.

The "tight little isle," as Churchill called it, has weathered worse tempests than the present one. We wish the British well. But we believe they will have to reassess their values before they can return to their former greatness among the nations of the earth.

Some Unsuspected Fire Hazards

FIRE CHIEF L. J. Steele is to be commended for his quick action in directing public attention to the danger involved in permitting an accumulation of inflammable materials in a theater—or any other building, for that matter.

By good fortune, the fire at the Ohio theater Tuesday evening was promptly discovered and extinguished—but it is just such apparently minor incidents that sometimes have tragic results. Constant emphasis should be placed on the importance of exercising the utmost care to minimize fire hazards—whether in public places, business establishments or homes.

Frequent and careful inspection of danger spots by members of the fire department also seems essential, due to laxity of some of the people upon whom responsibility rests.

Wheeler Advises Return To Courtesy

EMPHASIZING, in humorous vein, that we are shifting from a seller's to a buyer's market, Elmer Wheeler handed out a few "scorchers" along with his famous "sizzles" in his talk at John Simpson junior high school auditorium last night.

Members of the Retail Merchants association, their employes and guests were told that the very existence of their business may soon rest on courtesy to the customer. Pointing out that goods are rapidly becoming more plentiful, Wheeler stressed that selling is again becoming an art. The era of rudeness to customers has ended, he said.

Wheeler lived up to his reputation fully as a wit and as a forceful speaker. He brought a much needed lesson to retail merchandisers and he did it with zip.

Ashland Sets a Good Example

ASHLAND has done such a sensible thing that it may be wondered why it wasn't thought of, and acted upon sooner—and why Mansfield doesn't do something of the same sort.

Remember the editorial of several weeks ago, in which mention was made of waste paper being blown onto the street from a passing truck—and a visitor making an unfavorable comment on such carelessness?

Well, the Ashland city council has just passed an ordinance which requires that "vehicles hauling trash, paper, rubbish and similar materials through Ashland streets must be covered with canvas or other material to prevent refuse from blowing over the streets." Fines of from $1 to $25 are fixed for violations.

Mansfield should have such an ordinance. Or maybe there is one—who knows!

Jobs Ahead For Trained People

THAT wonderful new calculating machine built at Harvard university has one drawback, mathematicians admit. If all the machines of the sort that are planned were built, there would not be enough people to run them.

On this account the Bureau of Standards in Washington intends to establish offices which will do complicated computation for nation-wide industry and governmental agencies. These will not only give needed immediate service, but will train operators for the machines of the future.

Operating such machines should provide good jobs for trained people. It will be a long time before that field is overcrowded.

A Mexican divorce takes only twenty minutes—which must irk Reno, that had previously prided itself on speedy dissolution of marital ties.

In any event Henry Morgenthau has gained the distinction of being the only man who ever wrote 60 million words in a diary.

Political Changes In Britain Fail To Achieve Economic Recovery

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE BRITISH are learning that a socialist ton of coal will warm no more hands and feet than 2,000 pounds of capitalist coal. The British Labor government's attorney general says frankly that, unless coal production is increased, there will be an "end to any idea of socialism in our time." This is stating the political case. It does not meet the economic situation.

The political side is that socialism, communism and free enterprise are judged by results. Hungry and freezing people are not concerned with ideologies.

They go along with any regime that meets their requirements. And when a socialist party is put into power because it promises an abundant life and fails, people will turn to another creed.

But the whipping that the Labor party leaders are getting is deserved, because they said that, by changing the ownership of vital industries, a more equal distribution of the goods of life would be assured. This was and always will be a fallacy.

Public ownership is not the answer. Production depends on efficiency of machinery and of management. It also depends on the energies of individual workers. In England's case, machinery is antiquated; management is impered by divided responsibilities; and the labor rank and file is still seeking shorter hours.

It is hard for Americans to understand an economic crisis occasioned by a shortage of manpower. Our depressions have been accompanied by a surplus of manpower. But England desperately needs more work from more workers.

The labor unions will have none of the French remedy, which has been to import workers. And so the problem is mainly a question of work or starve and freeze.

This is one of the major lessons which must be learned by American industrial labor. Our troubles can conceivably increase if, as can be demonstrated, there is less production per man hour, despite higher wages and more union power.

But the British problem is also a European problem. A hard winter was experienced in 1946, but there was no fuel crisis. The Ruhr mines supplemented the production of those in Britain. Poland's rich coal mining areas were under operation. And Rumanian oil flowed into the European market.

Now there is no such pooling of resources. The British mines have been nationalized, but are still inefficient. Rumania's oil is running eastward. Poland is disorganized. And the Ruhr remains in suspended animation.

In prewar times, the Ruhr delivered over 100 million metric tons of bituminous coal. The Wurm and Saar helped with lignite, or brown coal. The total was 160 million metric tons. With present shortages of workers and of food for workers, this production is reduced to a point where all Europe is suffering for fuel. Illness is spreading and people are freezing to death.

Swedish and Norwegian industries complain bitterly because of the lack of fuel. Denmark has fallen back on peat, the lowest grade of fuel. And Italian industries, which two or three months ago were experiencing an encouraging recovery, are slowing down.

The whole situation shows how futile the squabble over political ideologies can be in Europe. Russia wants political centralization in Germany. Britain and the United States want more federalization. The French want to change the ownership of the Ruhr.

But all these political differences merely intensify the struggle for economic recovery.

The job of statesmen in the coming Moscow conference is to create economic unity in Germany without creating a dangerous political centralization.

And in Britain the Socialists must learn that, until they create better industrial management and machinery, they will stand amid the ruins of their ideological pretensions.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, Feb. 13, 1927.

Rainfall which quickly turned to sleet made walking and motoring dangerous in Mansfield.

Golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Witchey, Poplar street.

Mrs. Michael Szablewski and 13-year-old daughter had narrow escape when gas explosion wrecked their home at 70 Wayne street.

Tobias F. Crider, 55, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jane Stroup, 176 Westwood avenue.

Redecoration of St. Luke's Lutheran church was under way and services were held in basement rooms.

J. Clark Custer, 259 Marion avenue, was called to Philadelphia by the death of his father.

Revival services were being conducted by Salvation Army, with Adjt. Sam Hewitt in charge.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

The American Magazine, the first magazine published on the Western continent, made its appearance at Philadelphia on February 13, 1741.

Dave Boone Says:

PEOPLE who live in most cities of America must get a laugh out of all the yells of extortion and robbery every time a subway fare over five cents is mentioned in New York. That's about the last place on earth where a nickel fare remains just where it was a quarter of a century ago.

* * *

If they could go that far that fast for five cents, the rest of the country would think it a miracle. Other cities have admitted that transportation couldn't be expected to be sold at a loss year after year.

* * *

But in New York where the trains get more and more like cattle cars, the subways get dirtier and the service gets more and more hazardous. There is a conviction in official circles that a man trying to get between two given points don't care how he suffers if he gets all the misery possible for only a nickel.

Change Seen In President Truman's Attitude.

WASHINGTON—Visitors to the White House continue to marvel over the transformation that has occurred in scarcely more than three months. The president today is in almost every respect a different man from the worried, unhappy prisoner of last October who kept talking about his impossible job.

One incidental result of this transformation is the speech which Democratic Chairman Robert Hannegan recently made in New York. Both Hannegan and the White House could say quite honestly that there was no collusion in that speech.

Mr. Truman and the political chief of his party understand each other so well that no go-ahead signal from the White House was necessary to prepare for the president's nomination in 1948.

When Hannegan returned from his long rest cure in Florida, the president began by saying that, if Hannegan's health possibly permitted, he would have to stay on in his dual capacity as party chairman and postmaster general. It was a new and authoritative commander who spoke to his lieutenant.

To begin with, Mr. Truman feels that he has organized the executive branch of the government in such a way that the line of responsibility is now unmistakably clear. In his oval office, to the right of his desk is a large handsome chart. At the slightest hint of an invitation, or with none at all, he explains this chart to visitors.

It shows the president's desk with diminishing layers of authority branching away from it. Each man in the chain knows where to report, as the president tells it, and the chain of authority is not broken by the internal jealousies and rivalries which marked the Roosevelt administration.

Of this last the president makes an important point. He believes that one result of the harmony now prevailing in his official family has been to stop the feuding that was often echoed in stories leaked to newspapermen. Nothing infuriates the president so much as the familiar Washington trick of "leaking" a story that might damage a rival.

At a recent off-the-record Monday cabinet luncheon, the president looked around the table with a smile of benign good-will. Here we are, he said, all eleven of us together for the first time, and it is a most happy occasion. This was the first of these weekly luncheons at which new Secretary of State George C. Marshall was present, and it also marked the return of Hannegan from Florida.

Mr. Truman no longer talks about how he did not want the office. In fact, he seems to have adopted as his own the old axiom that the way to run for office—whether for election or re-election—is not to run.

The way in which President Truman's popularity has fluctuated is an interesting phenomenon. In July, 1945, in the aftermath of victory, the Gallup poll showed that 87 per cent approved him and only three per cent disapproved. For last October, the two figures were 32 per cent and 53 per cent. Today they are 48 and 39 per cent.

'Palace Guard' Much Disturbed By Hannegan's 'Nominating' Speech

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The White House palace guard was really burnt up at Bob Hannegan for tossing Truman's hat into the ring for 1948. They claim Hannegan has now made the president for political opposition just as his prestige is running high. No matter what he does now, they say, he will be accused of playing politics.

Real fact is that Hannegan conferred twice with Truman before making the speech, but the palace guard is peeved just the same. They think Hannegan pulled a "Henry Wallace" on the boss. Wallace, they point out, officially cleared his Russian speech with Truman last summer, but didn't point out to Truman its innuendoes and possible repercussions.

The Merry Mortician.

Senator Kenneth Wherry, Nebraska's merry mortician, who has promised to do so much for small business, now seems to be a little forgetful about it.

Wherry pushed a resolution through congress whereby a special small business committee was created with him as chairman, thereby keeping the chairmanship out of the hands of his fellow Republican, Senator Wilson of Iowa.

And previously, when the Democrats controlled congress, Wherry blocked an investigation of the newsprint monopoly, so strongly favored by small newspapers.

Now that the new small business committee finally has been voted, the Nebraska ex-undertaker has been dickering with Joe Borda to become head of the committee staff. And, believe it or not, Borda is on the payroll of the National Association of Manufacturers, which represents the biggest business in the country.

No wonder the Nebraska undertaker's committee is now nicknamed the Big Business Committee for Small Undertakings.

White House Stamps.

President Truman doesn't go in for his predecessor's favorite hobby of stamp collecting, but another member of his family does.

Representative Bob Poage of Waco, Texas, went over to the White House the other day to offer the president the hospitality of Waco when he returns from Mexico City, and noted on the presidential desk several booklets filled with stamps.

"You ought to see these, Bob," said the president, opening one. "These are Egyptian stamps which the Egyptian ambassador gave me for Margaret's stamp collection. They're beautiful things, although I admit, I don't know too much about stamps."

Note—Interesting fact about the stamp gift by the Egyptian ambassador is that while he could legally give them to Margaret Truman, he could not have given them to her father. It is against the law for the president of the United States to receive gifts from a foreign government. FDR's secretary, Miss Lehand, used to insist that stamp collections given him by foreign governments be sent to the state department to be kept until his term expired. But the late president frequently hid the stamp gifts before she could dispose of them.

Tax Czar Knutson.

Minnesota's Rep. Harold Knutson, whose self-styled role as tax expert has been challenged of late, doesn't plan to take any chances about losing control of the house ways and means committee.

Meeting in secret session last week, Knutson wasted little time in passing a motion permitting unrestricted use of proxies. In other words, no matter how many Republican members may be out playing golf or mending political fences when a committee meeting is scheduled, Chairman Knutson will be able to vote them almost any way he pleases. Even though a majority of those on hand for the meeting may be Democrats, the GOP—by voting proxies—can prevail.

Scrappy Representative Herman Eberharter, Pennsylvania Democrat, raised an immediate point of order against this wholesale use of proxies.

Knutson immediately overruled Eberharter's point of order, but the Pennsylvanian served notice he will raise it again whenever proxies are used.

Earlier in the meeting Knutson, who is now worried over public reaction to his tax proposal for saving millions for the upper brackets but only a few dollars for low-income taxpayers, succeeded in winning a committee O.K. for rushing a tax-cut bill through the committee immediately—without even public hearings.

A proposal for public hearings on the several tax-cut bills now before the ways and means committee was offered by Rep. Sidney Camp of Georgia, but got only the support of five other Democrats. All the Republicans and Representative Wilbur Mills of Arkansas, who usually votes with the Republicans, voted to pass up public hearings on the most important tax bill congress has considered in many years.

Merry-Go-Round.

Ed Pauley will accompany Secretary of State Marshall to Moscow as chief adviser on reparations. . . . Now that President Truman's hat has been tossed into the ring, Democrats have begun looking over vice-presidential possibilities. Able young Secretary of the Interior Cap Krug is definitely one of them. . . . Rep. John Taber of New York, ax-swinging chairman of the house appropriations committee, has issued the unusual warning that he will consider news leaks about budget cuts as efforts to exert pressure on his committee, and those guilty may get an extra slash in their budgets. . . . Postmaster General Bob Hannegan is returning to the hospital for further treatments.

The fare was five cents when Edison invented the electric light . . . Several of his original bulbs have since been replaced in the subway.

Fletcher Denies Senator Tobey's Charge.

WASHINGTON — One of the most powerful lobbies operating here is that of the Ass'n. of American Railroads.

Currently it is trying to rush through congress the Bulwinkle-Reed bill to exempt railroads from the anti-trust laws, and thus remove protection afforded to the public by these laws.

Some days ago there was published here a statement by Senator Tobey (R., N. H.) before the senate interstate commerce committee which had been called suddenly to give its approval to this measure with only brief hearings.

The New Hampshire senator not only protested the haste, but he recalled an incident in a previous congress relating to railroad legislation to illustrate the tactics of the railroad lobby.

Because this incident has become a matter of dispute, subsequent developments are herewith reported.

As to the incident itself, Senator Tobey told of a conference of a senate interstate commerce subcommittee, which had completed the draft of an amendment to railroad statutes. Present at this conference, beside himself, he said were then Senator Harry Truman, then Senator Austin, now American representative on the United Nations security council, a Mr. Clark, R. V. Fletcher, then chief counsel of AAR, and also the counsel for the nine largest railroads in the country. Senator Tobey said of that session:

"The statement was made up here, Mr. Fletcher talking: 'Gentlemen, you have a pretty good bill here. You have done a good job.' He paid us a fine tribute. 'We have two or three little amendments we would like to have adopted, and if they are included we will let it go through.'

" 'Did I hear you right?' I said. 'Did you say you would let it go through?'

" 'That is right,' he said.

" 'Are you telling us or are we telling you?' I asked."

After Senator Tobey's statement a few days ago, Mr. Fletcher wrote him a letter denying the incident. He said:

"I desire to say, positively and emphatically, that the incident to which you refer never took place. I was never present at any conference of this kind. I have no idea to what bill you are referring. I am very sure, however, that I did not use the language you attribute to me; nor was I present at any occasion when there occurred any discussion of the type you describe. I have never discussed legislative matters with you, otherwise than at public hearings and in response to questions.

"May I say that if President Truman or Senator Austin or the Mr. Clark to whom you refer will confirm your statements as to what occurred, I will apologize abjectly and sever my connection immediately with the railroad industry.

"You have done me a cruel injustice, without the slightest basis for doing so."

This writer's attention has been called to the distribution of this letter to newspapers in which this column appears, as well as to United Feature Syndicate headquarters in New York which is the distributing and marketing agency for this column, though it has nothing whatever to do with its content.

In the enclosure, there is included, along with Mr. Fletcher's letter, a letter from Robert S. Henry, assistant to Mr. Fletcher, president of AAR, saying that Mr. Fletcher had asked the senator to substantiate his statements or withdraw them, and that "the senator has done neither."

The day he got Mr. Fletcher's letter, Senator Tobey sent a letter to the interstate commerce committee, as follows:

"I have today received a letter from Mr. R. V. Fletcher, president of the Ass'n. of American Railroads, which I enclose. I ask you to make the letter a part of the record in the pending Bulwinkle bill, as in all fairness I desire to have Mr. Fletcher given full opportunity to have his position stated fully in the record.

"I do not desire to alter in any way the statement which I made the other day to which he refers."

Senator Tobey is standing exactly on what he said.

Farmer's Diary: "Onward, Singing."

MY FATHER liked to sing. The oldtime singing schools were his delight. Without an instrument he had the gift of pitch, and could lead the van of the harvest crew, swinging their scythes in rhythm to the song, as they moved around the field as one man, leaving a wide swath.

I remember hearing other singing workers, as a boy. Our blacksmith hummed as he forged the steel with measured blows upon the ponderous anvil. The old leathern bellows creaked in time as it puffed its flow of air into the roaring forge.

The cobbler who made the shoes and boots for most of the countryside, had a song he sang as he hammered the wooden pegs into the heavy red-brown leather soles.

The weaver of homespun who seemed to forever sit before his loom, would suddenly break the quiet of the evening by a song. His wife, kneading the bread, would perhaps join in.

All up and down the countryside, in spring, birds sang—and so did the farm folk—the songs they had sung in church and school. In summer to the accompaniment of the hoe and the flail . . . in winter to the clop of horses' hoofs and the jingle of sleigh bells.

The days of labor and of song were good old days. America has always gone forward singing. My father would have stood in awe before musical reproductions of the present day. Radio, record player, juke box—"canned music." But what is music for?

There is a "concord of sweet sounds" that moves harmoniously throughout all nature. There is a universal rhythm that swings the stars and determines the form of every snowflake.

It is when a man expresses his own best emotions in song that he knows the real meaning of music. For then he experiences the harmony that he sings.

The "lost chord" dreamed of by the masters—may it be perhaps a unity of thought and work and prayer that will lead the whole world to know the joy of music? Music is an international language. It knows no race nor creed.

Who will teach the peoples of the world to sing—together? For to get the most from music each must not only listen—but take an active part.

GANGES GRANGE TO BURN NOTES

SHELBY — The Ganges grange will hold a mortgage-burning ceremony when it meets at the grange hall tonight, Mrs. Lucile V. Clark, secretary, announced today.

The ceremony will mark payment of all debts on the grange hall. The building, formerly an abandoned brick school house, was acquired by the grange in 1943.

Among the projects from which funds have been raised to pay off the notes were ice cream socials, hay making, dinners and the raising of a soy bean crop.

The grange also will hold graduation exercises for four members of the juvenile grange who will be initiated into the subordinate grange.

RODERICK NAMED

CRESTLINE—Glenn Roderick, of Crestline, has been named the new editor of the "Advance," student bi-weekly publication at Hiram college, Hiram. Roderick succeeds Willis Kern of Painesville, who recently resigned.

DRIVE PLANNED BY RED CROSS

CRESTLINE — Plans for the Crestline chapter of the American Red Cross fund drive, which opens March 8, were laid at a meeting this week of the board of directors. Robert Crider is chairman of the fund drive.

The 1946 annual report was submitted this week. The report showed that 370 cases were handled during the year by the home service department.

The chapter also aided servicemen and their dependents, gave financial assistance and advice with family problems.

The chapter sponsored the attendance by two Crestline men at the National Red Cross Aquatic school at Camp Y'Noak near Akron.

A corps of approximately 110 women produced 513 sewed and knitted articles for relief at home and abroad.

to music, but music can make a contribution to all children."

One example of how music can be worked into the school curriculum is the study of folk music of countries studied in geography.

* * *

"WE'RE INTERESTED in developing fine musical organizations . . . orchestras, bands, choirs, and ensembles," she said.

Another way to boost music, she said, "is through contests sponsored by Music study clubs. Children are encouraged to enter these clubs."

Miss Keller works with the state P-T A, music clubs, the Grange, and Farm Bureau groups in the development of music appreciation.

Miss Keller, a native of Blooming Grove, is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan university. She studied music at Cornell university and received her master's degree at Ohio State university.

On completion of her music studies she became music supervisor for the schools at Fremont, O. Then she headed the department of music at Mary Washington college at Fredericksburg, Va.

She has been with the Ohio State department of education as music supervisor for 23 years.

Miss Keller said that music programs in high schools have expanded rapidly in Ohio in recent years, with some high schools offering a music major for talented students.

During her three-day stay here Miss Keller will meet with music teachers of Mansfield and Richland county. She will visit classrooms and attempt to aid music teachers with their problems.

HEARING SET ON BONUS PLAN

Senate Group Hears Proposal To Finance Vet Payments With Horse Race Tax.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The house military affairs committee today scheduled hearings next Tuesday on its own soldier bonus proposals as a senate group heard suggestions for a new tax on horse racing to finance its measures.

A direct tax of four or five per cent on race bets, plus a one-half share in the "breakage" or odd-cents on bets, was suggested by Sen. Stanley Meechem (R-Nelsonville) as a possible method to help finance a bonus to Ohio veterans of World War II.

Meechem told a senate subcommittee considering three bonus resolutions that more than 32 million dollars was bet on horse races in the Buckeye state last year.

Illinois, he said, has such a tax to help finance its soldier bonus, and that such a tax in Ohio would yield "around two millions a year."

Ohio now levies a graduated tax on horse racing, but the tracks retain all the breakage.

Sen. Al Daniels, subcommittee chairman, said a gross receipts tax in place of the present three per cent sales tax also had been suggested as a means of increasing revenue to meet bonus costs.

Outlines Differences.

Ed D Schorr, former Republican state chairman and now a member of the American Legion's legislative committee, submitted a memorandum outlining the differences in the three proposals, estimated to cost from 325 to 500 million dollars

The Legion favors retiring the necessary bonds through a real estate tax and any other funds available. A second plan would retire them out of excess sales tax revenues, while a third would combine the two proposals.

WINANT TO SPEAK

HOBBY PAYS—Harry Bosh, 100½ East Third street, has turned his hobby of making gadgets from burnt matches into a nice income. Above is one of the gadgets, a cross 20 inches long and 13 inches wide. It is eight matches and two layers thick. The cross may be opened into a box. Bosh used more than 3,000 matches to make the box. So far Bosh has sold 29 crosses and numerous other items, such as trays, book-ends, picture frames and scrap book covers.

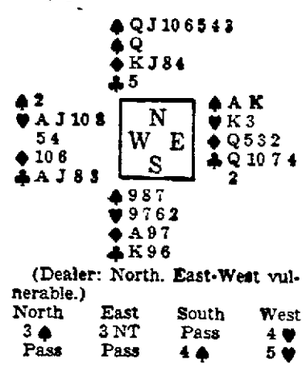
ACCIDENT RATE UP

BUCYRUS—Accidents in Bucyrus are occurring at an average of more than one a day, according to the February figures in police court, where 14 mishaps have been investigated to date this month.

Barclay on Bridge

WHEN FOUR experts are battling each other and one of them makes a pre-emptive suit bid of three, you are likely to see fireworks also from all other points of the compass. If there is anything a fine player hates to have happen to him, it is to get shut out of the bidding, when he thinks there is a good chance his side has the balance of power. Perhaps that is one of the weaknesses of the best performers—a very human weakness. Or perhaps it is one of their greatest strong points.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
3 ♠	3 NT	Pass	4 ♥
Pass	Pass	4 ♠	5 ♥

As they might say in racing, East and West "made every post a winning post." Despite North's effort to shut them out of the bidding, or at least crowd them into an incorrect contract, they would have been successful in taking the necessary tricks for every bid they made. East's 3-No Trumps would have produced an unbid grand slam unless a diamond got led, if he played properly. And the 5-Hearts got made plus an extra trick after North led a spade The unthinkable diamond lead is all that could have held it to exactly contract.

Notice that it would have paid North and South. to bid spades once more, at the level of five. That could have been set only three tricks, with two in spades, one in hearts, one each in the minors. The 500 point cost would have been appreciably less than the value of the adverse vulnerable game Of course the strong side might then have tried 6-Hearts, though it is not likely. And, as before indicated, only the improbable diamond lead could have headed off the making of the slam.

Canada produces most of the world supply of palladium, a precious metal of the platinum family.

YOUNG PEOPLE TO MEET MAY 4

The annual spring convention of the Richland County Christian Endeavor union will be held May 4 at a place to be selected later, it was decided at a meeting of the county board Tuesday night at the home of Miss Geneva Craig in Mansfield.

The state financial drive was discussed during the business meeting in charge of Miss Hazel Mitchell. Richland county still has $50 to raise in the drive toward a goal of $350.

During the evening letters were addressed by the board members for the two financial drives. The next meeting will be March 11 at the home of Mrs. Charles McKellogg in Shelby.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

That Ring Around the Bathtub

Jeb Crowell blew his top the other day. Seems that for weeks he's been trying to get his youngsters to scrub out the bathtub after using it. And this night he sees two rings around it—one where young Sonny left off, and another about Pinky's level.

He raves and rants—and takes it out on the missus for her lack of discipline. And later that evening he sees her quietly polishing the hardwood table that's right by his chair. She's removing the rings he's left there with his evening glass of beer!

From now on, Jeb's careful to put his glass down on the table cover—like the missus does. And I hear he's a little more forgiving about rings around the bathtub. Just keeps on patiently reminding.

From where I sit, there are little annoyances in every family—conflicting habits and opinions in every community. A little patience—a little more "forgive and let live" is the only antidote.

Emblem Dinner, Initiation Held by B. and P. W. Club

THE ANNUAL Emblem program and dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club was held last evening at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Dinner was served to 65 members and guests. In charge of hospitality was Miss Lenna Mateer assisted by Miss Laura Konrad, Miss Ada Steward and Miss Mayme Swier.

At the conclusion of the dinner, a brief business session was led by Miss Urith Funston, club president. Miss Funston announced the committees and ushers for the coming Glee club concert scheduled for March 23 at the John Simpson junior high school auditorium. Mrs. Falsom Teeters was named as the general chairman.

Following the business discussion, six new members were initiated into the club. The new members, presented by Miss Mabelle Koppes, membership chairman, were Mrs. Mabel Winans, Mrs. Laura Reece, Mrs. Grace McCausland, Mrs. Frances Schultz, Mrs. Grace Morrow, and Mrs. Leo Stuhldreher.

Reverend Samuel U. J. Peard, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, was introduced by Mrs. Mildred Perry, emblem chairman, who was in charge of the evening's program. Rev. Peard spoke on the fact of faith—faith in yourself, in your fellowmen, and in your God." He said, "so believe in yourself that you have enough self-reliance and enough courage to know that the battle you have made with your life and your work is the one that is of real value and that you have real service to offer to other people." He stressed the fact that we must fit our lives for service if our life is to have meaning; that real faith always works like real love.

He pointed out that if we haven't faith in our fellowmen by our treatment of them, by our attitude and by our words, how can the world ever have faith in itself; that we express faith in our community by the way we serve it and by the way we give to it.

Assisting Mrs. Perry on the program committee were Miss Florence Cairns and Miss Rose Swanson.

The March dinner meeting of the club will be at the Mansfield-Leland hotel on March 12, with Miss Clara Miller and Miss Emma Reinewald serving as chairmen of the program and hospitality committees.

Fete Anne Lersch With Pre-Nuptial Party at Bailets

Honoring Miss Anne Lersch, bride-elect daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne D. Lersch, 121 Stewart avenue, was the party given Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lowell Bailet, 446 Park avenue west. Luncheon was served for eight after which the group presented the honoree with a shower of miscellaneous gifts.

Bridge was the diversion with prizes won by Mrs. Avery C. Hand jr., Mrs. John Burns and Mrs. Paul Auxter. Tonight Miss Charlette Purdy, 408 Park avenue west, will give the spinster dinner for Miss Lersch.

Committees Set By Beta Pi Mu

Several committees were appointed by Miss Marjorie Beidelschies, president, at the meeting this week of Beta Pi Mu sorority in the clubroom of the Southern hotel.

Miss June Eberle was appointed to manage the rummage sale to be held by the sorority soon. A committee to investigate a charter for the organization was named with Miss Margaret Rizer as chairman. Assisting her will be Miss Peggy Hess, Mrs. Donna Mumford, Miss Betty Jona and Mrs. Leon Ford.

Plans were made for members of the group to do special work for the Elks club during its bowling tournament in March. A card of thanks from Mrs. Dolan Goodner was read.

Teams were chosen for saving sales tax receipts and Miss Eberle and Miss Jeanette Baker were appointed captains. At the end of the contest the receipts will be donated to some charity to be chosen at that time.

A white elephant sale will be featured at the next meeting which will be held Feb. 25 with Miss Helen Smith in charge. The committee for the meeting will be headed by Miss Rizer, assisted by Miss Barbara Rizer, Miss Hess and Miss Marge Murphy.

Academy of Friendship Committee Holds Meeting

Sixteen members of the Academy of Friendship committee of the Women of the Moose met Wednesday evening at the Moose home in regular session. Mrs. Michael Marviesin presided for the business session. A social hour was enjoyed with prizes won by Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. Paul Whipp and Mrs. Wayne McFarland.

Refreshments were served late in the evening with Mrs Glenn Tingley, Mrs. Marjorie Peppard and Mrs. Forest Daugherty as hostesses. The next meeting will be held March 12 at the home of Mrs. Alice Mast, 193 Carpenter road. Associate hostesses will be Mrs. Marviesin and Mrs. Louis Whiparina

Esther Class, Mayflower Church, Plans Party

Mrs Mary Dinges, Springmill street, entertained members and guests of the Esther class of the Mayflower Congregational church Wednesday evening. Her associate was Mrs. Fred Schnuerer. Guests in attendance were Misses Charlene and Betty Dinges and Rev. A. F Lindbeck Mrs. Lester Rose led the devotions after which Mrs Harry Adams presided for the business session.

Contest award was presented to Mrs Mary Seymour and Mrs C R Ladd. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. The next meeting will honor those members who celebrate their birthdays in January, February March and April. The event will take place March 12 with a covered dish dinner at the church parlors. Mrs Harry Adams and Mrs Lewis Christy will be in charge

Journey Club Hears Mrs. G. E. Shawk, Guest

Mrs. C. V. McConnell, Woodhill road, was hostess to members of the Journey club Wednesday afternoon at her home. Ten members and two guests, Mrs. Paul McConnell and Mrs. G. E. Shawk were in attendance for the dessert-luncheon.

Mrs McConnell, the hostess, introduced Mrs. Shawk, who spoke on "China and Old Glassware," displaying several rare and unusual pieces. The next meeting will be held Feb. 26 at the home of Mrs. W. J. Acomb, Edgewood road. Mrs. Milo Hieber will speak on "Famous Women of Yesterday and Today."

Lincoln-Washington Dinner Scheduled

Arrangements for the Lincoln-Washington dinner for members of the Mary B. Mitchell Tent No. 40, Daughters of Union Veterans, and their families were completed recently when the group met for a regular business meeting and ritual.

Mrs. Ethel Purdy presided and plans were made for a rummage sale with Mrs. Cleo Keefer to act as chairman An invitation from the Tiffin tent to a Lincoln banquet was read and accepted.

Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell read a paper dealing with President McKinley. Mrs. Ella McHugh, patriotic instruction chairman, was in charge of the program.

The Lincoln-Washington dinner will be Feb. 25 at Memorial hall at 6 p. m. and all members and their families are asked to bring table service and a covered dish. A regular organization meeting will follow the dinner.

Women of Tappan Stove Company Honor Associates

For the pleasure of three recent brides and a bride-elect, office girls from the Tappan Stove company met at the Sky club Wednesday evening for a dinner party and social evening. Those feted were Mrs. Stanley Ginniver, the former Marguerite Swan; Mrs. Lucius Hatfield, nee Jeannette Thompson; Mrs. Paul Baumberger, the former Norma Stotts, and Miss Margaret Griffith, who will wed Dwight Fry on Sunday.

The forty-one in attendance presented the honorees with white chenille bedspreads. Pink and white appointments were used for the table decorations. The evening was spent socially. Miss Ruth Blaney and Miss Mildred Rice were co-chairmen of the party.

Friends Shower Margaret Logan

Miss Margaret Logan, bride-elect of William Birmelin, was again honored at a miscellaneous shower and bridal party, given by Miss Elaine Crall at her home, 708 West Fourth street.

Prizes were awarded to Miss Logan and Miss Mary Henry. Red and white appointments were used throughout the evening.

Miss Logan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Logan, Logan road, and Mr. Birmelin's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Birmelin, sr., 18 Bradford avenue. The marriage vows will be exchanged March 1 at the First English Lutheran church.

Daughters of Isabella Continue Tournament

This week's business meeting of Joan of Arc Circle, Daughters of Isabella, was held in the club room of the Bird Building with the regent, Mrs. Thomas Creamer, presiding.

The attendance prize was won by Miss Parmilla Altamonte and the door prize by Mrs. Walter Beckley. After the meeting auction and contract bridge and pinochle were played as part of the annual card tournament. Prizes for this session were won by Miss Eva Mayer, Mrs. B. J. Milum and Mrs Earl Roberts.

The next meeting of the group will be Feb 25. The business meeting will be followed by more tournament playing.

Hat Show and Hobby Display Given by Western Avenue P-TA

Members of Western avenue school Parent Teachers' association met for a humorous and entertaining program at the building Wednesday evening. Highlighting the program was a style show of original hats with prizes going to Mrs. Lee Moore for her "bird's nest" with a mother chicken and her babies in it, and Mrs. Frances Hardesty, whose miniature table setting brought a huge round of applause from the audience.

Her "hat" consisted of a tiny table set with red and white check cloth, miniature dishes and tiny vase with flowers. Mrs. Irving Green's hat was made of book covers and also won admiration of the crowd. Mrs. W. A. Kramer's hat was a large wooden bowl filled with fresh vegetables.

Mrs. Lawrence Bergstrom won the evening's prizes which were a man's and lady's hat made of paper and cardboard.

Mrs. Dean Dickerson, a guest, furnished a most entertaining part of the program, giving a book review on "Talking Through My Hat" by Lily Dache. A hobby show was another event of the meeting with Mrs. Hardesty winning the prize for her unusual photo albums. A brief business session was in charge of Eugene Earick. Mrs. A. L. Derr spoke on the history of Founder's day of the PTA.

Refreshments were served at the close of the program with Mrs. Robert Weaver, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Charles Farry, Mrs. Carl Wolford, Mrs. Leo Blackstone and Mrs. William Boyd.

YOUTH FORUM.

Interracial Youth Forum will meet Thursday evening at 7 p. m. at the YWCA.

Relief Corps Honors Lincoln

Mrs. Nora Bentley, conducted the regular business session of McLaughlin Woman's Relief Corps Wednesday night at Memorial hall.

The visiting committee reported having called on all ill members. This committee includes Miss Ida Hunter, Mrs. R. N. Waring and Mrs. Walter Huffman. The group voted to send a donation to the "March of Dimes."

"The Life of Abraham Lincoln" was presented by Miss Mary Beilstein, patriotic instructor. The evening prize was awarded to Miss Anna Hunter.

Meetings scheduled by the group are as follows: Serving Circle will hold a covered dish dinner at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 26, at Memorial hall; Corps members will meet with Mrs. Charles Avery, Thursday, Feb. 27, to make chair pads for the Soldiers and Sailors Home at Sandusky, and the next regular meeting of the organization will be Wednesday Feb. 26, at 7:30 p. m. at Memorial hall.

Luncheon was served by the committee, Mrs. Charles Edmonstone, Mrs. Charles Kime, Mrs. R. N. Waring, and Mrs. Nora Bentley. The members were seated at a long table centered with a miniature white statue of Abraham Lincoln. The American flag and red candles completed the table decorations.

Fortnight Club Hears Review

Fortnight club members met at the Women's Club Tuesday evening with Mrs. Rex W. Gilbert as hostess. Following a brief business session Miss June Shires reviewed the book, "Montana: High, Wide and Handsome" by Joseph Kinsey Howard. She told of the exploitation of the state by mining interests, cattlemen and absentee land-owners, and of the unprofitable struggles of the homesteaders.

The club will meet again Feb. 25 at the home of Miss Virginia Stark for an indoor picnic supper. Associate hostesses will be Mrs. T. Y. McCray and Mrs. J. W. Gray.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

Mrs. Dale Beal, Brickman avenue, was hostess Wednesday afternoon to eleven members of the Women's Missionary society of the First Brethren church. Four guests, Mrs. Francis Shafer, Mrs. Virgil Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Evelyn Siters and Miss Wanda May Beal, were present. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a missionary, gave an interesting talk of her work in Africa. The business session was in charge of Mrs. Herbert Longshore. The hostess served a luncheon at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be held March 12 at the home of Mrs. Harry Keil Harker street.

Mrs. Eugene Smart Presents Paper for Conversationalists

TWENTY-TWO members and one guest, Mrs. James Hoffman, were in attendance at the meeting of the Conversational club Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Paul Endriss, Ruth avenue, entertained at her home for the dessert luncheon and program. Appointments for the refreshment table were in keeping with the Valentine season and the centerpiece was an arrangement of red and white sweetpeas.

Following a brief business session Mrs. Eugene Smart presented the paper on "Contemporary Humor In Art and Literature" which proved to be interesting as well as educational.

Mrs. Walter Willis will be hostess at the next meeting at the Women's club Feb. 26, at which time Mrs. James Boyd will give the program on "Our Ohio Schools."

Wednesday Study Club Holds Tea

Wednesday Study club members were entertained yesterday at the Women's club with Mrs. Relmond Shaffer as hostess. Mrs. Frederick Tracy conducted the business session after which Mrs. Paul Sturges presented the program, a paper on "The Women of the White House".

Mrs. Harry Lowry and Mrs. George Buchan were guests in attendance. Tea was served later with spring flowers decorating the center of the table. Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Sturges presided. The next meeting will be held Feb. 26, the place to be announced later.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Nous Servons club elected new officers for the second semester at their regular meeting Tuesday evening. They are: president, Josephine Taddeo; vice-president, Virginia Zara; secretary, Ruth Zaebst; treasurer, Pat Herr. A joint meeting of all clubs will be held next Monday night. The next meeting of Nous Servons club will be February 25.

CLASSY LASSY CLUB.

The Classy Lassy Club met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Wharton, Wood Street, for a business session and hearts. Miss Helen Groman presided. Prizes were won by Miss Mary Stover and Miss Eleanor Herre. Miss Stover will entertain the group at its next meeting, Feb. 26. Her home is at 132½ Marion avenue.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Child Could Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving.

You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it's hard to beat.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. No cooking needed. It's no trouble Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in throat and bronchial irritations.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and fill up with your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick relief, it's a wonder. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, and makes breathing easy. If not pleased, your money will be refunded.

On Target for '47

STAND back — take it all in — and make sure you don't miss a thing.

For what we've pictured for you here is the whole Highway Hit Parade of 1947 — wrapped up in one glamorous bundle.

Those long, flowing, follow-through fenders — there's a style note you'll see echoed in automotive fashions for a long time to come.

That generous beam amidships — there's the drivingroom you've been seeking, with legroom, headroom, elbowroom all around.

That broad deep bonnet spells power aplenty — eager, lively Fireball power from an engine that seems to stay forever young.

That hug-the-road look means steadiness; coil springs on all four wheels spell matchless, floating ride; wide-swinging doors open on interiors both handy and handsome in arrangement.

In a word — here's a car squarely on target, whether you go for style or size, performance or value. Here's America's most wanted car — and easily America's most sought-after buy.

So why let the crowd get ahead of you? Why wait — when waiting can only postpone delivery, not hasten it.

Just remember that faint heart ne'er won a fair car like this — and get your order in!

Navy Officials Bare Search For Oil In Alaskan Fields

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Navy officials revealed today that current exploration for oil in Alaska ultimately may bring in 300 to 500 million barrels of petroleum.

Secretary of the Navy Forrestal has prohibited release of detailed information on oil drilling operations and exploratory projects underway in the frozen polar regions.

Wilkins on Mission.

Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed British explorer and Polar expert, previously was revealed to be carrying out an undisclosed mission in Alaska with headquarters at naval petroleum reserve number four.

An official of naval petroleum reserves stated:

"Ultimately, we hope to get three to 500 million barrels from the reserve. An average new field in the United States today has an ultimate production of only two million barrels."

He said that "in addition, some of the coastal area between Nome and Point Barrow, Alaska, outside the reserve might be found productive" in oil.

Spokesmen said that they presumed that Russians also are conducting some exploration for oil in the Polar regions. They said that no information on extent of Soviet projects is available in this country.

They asserted that the navy's oil drilling operations in Alaska will continue unless congress withdraws funds.

Funds Provided.

An appropriation of nine million, 600 thousand dollars has been made available for expenditures up to July 1, 1950.

Spokesmen said that if the exploration netted sufficient oil it might be advisable for the military to bring some of the petroleum from Alaska for storage.

Otherwise, it would be used to meet the local oil needs in Alaska. It was pointed out that this would mean a great deal to Alaskan development and progress.

VETS REINSTATE GI INSURANCE

Mansfield area veterans reinstated $287,000 worth of GI insurance and made 200 inquiries relative to insurance problems during the past week, J. C. Fuller, contacts officer of the Mansfield sub regional office, Veterans Administration, said today.

Lapsed insurance can still be reinstated by payment of two premiums and presentation of a comparative health statement, G. D. Weidemaier, manager of the Mansfield VA office, said.

"The VA can request anyone submitting a comparative health statement to undergo a physical examination if it feels an examination is necessary," Weidemaier pointed out.

A bill extending the time during which GI insurance may be reinstated without a physical examination has been passed by the house of representatives and is awaiting action by the senate.

ACTION NEARS ON ARMS CUT

Security Council Prepares To Cast Vote on Disarmament Commission Today.

LAKE SUCCESS, N Y —(INS)— The United Nations security council was ready today to take the first forward stride toward world disarmament despite U. S. and Soviet discord over the creation of a commission on general disarmament.

The whole of a resolution creating the commission to make recommendations for the general reduction of armaments other than atomic weapons within three months time will be presented for final council vote at today's session.

Despite Russia's defeat by the United States in a series of votes yesterday, little prospect was foreseen that Soviet delegate Andrei Gromyko would cast a veto on the measure

What little speculation existed on a possible veto arose from the fact the Russian representative abstained in the final vote on a controversial section of the resolution which specifically prohibits the disarmament commission from usurping any of the functions of the atomic energy commission.

At yesterday's day-long session, a Russian compromise proposal was defeated at U S. delegate Warren R Austin's insistence and the strict definition of duties written by the United States was unanimously adopted without alteration.

A SIGHT FOR HUNGRY EYES

He cannot live who cannot eat,
The hunter's forced to seek his meat. —Old Mother Nature.

Mrs Lightfoot the Deer had been the one to decide where in the Green Forest the family would live while the snow was too deep for traveling except in trodden paths. She had chosen the place before the first snow. It was a place where there appeared to be enough browse to last the family as long as the snow remained too deep for moving about Browse, you know, consists of shoots, tender twigs, and leaves of trees and bushes which serve as food. In winter it is the only food of the Deer folk Also Mrs. Lightfoot kept in mind the need of shelter during bad storms: spreading, overhanging boughs where one might lie in comfort, thickets of close-growing young evergreen trees, perhaps a great windfall

So it was Mrs. Lightfoot who led the way around the new feeding place, stopping to take a bite here and a bite there, the others following and doing the same thing as they trod down the snow behind her, making the start of a path. Only Father and Mother knew that this was the boundary of the "yard" as this winter feeding place would be called Within the boundary they wandered about in search of browse, making new paths that crossed and re-crossed By constant use these were kept trodden down while the surrounding snow grew deeper and deeper until it was so deep outside that they couldn't have left that yard had they wanted to

Yowler the Bobcat knew all about that yard. He had prowled around it more than once when it was first made. But Lightfoot had his antlers of many sharp points then. So for a time Yowler had given up going there Now hunger and temptation had proved too much to resist and he was back there. He had found Lightfoot by himself and without the dreaded antlers Now Yowler was looking for the others, hoping for a chance to get a dinner of tender Deer meat

After prowling part way around the yard without finding the deer he decided to climb a tree Perhaps it was the voice of Blacky the Crow that decided him He couldn't see Blacky because of the tree-tops, but he could hear him He wasn't far away

"That fellow sees some one He always caws that way when he sees some one It may be those Deer," thought he.

He climbed a tree from which he could look down in another part of that yard It was those Deer They were lying down chewing their cuds The fawns were close to Mrs Lightfoot The two young Deer, Spike and Dainty foot, were near It was a sight for hungry eyes, for Yowler's, anyway. They glowed with desire and eagerness and cunning If only Blacky the Crow would go on about his business

FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

Same Guy, But No Hair

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The city editor assigned me many years ago to hoof over to the first press conference of David E. Lilienthal, who'd just taken over as chief of the TVA. I made an embarrassing discovery upon arrival. No pencil.

A nice-looking youngster with a head of wavy hair, a sharp nose and a baggy tweed suit was hanging around in the back of the room talking to other youths who also looked like office boys.

"Son," I said, "I seem to have forgotten my pencil. Can you lend me one?"

"Sir," he replied, "let me get you a new one. I'll just be a minute."

He beat it out the door, rushed back with a freshly sharpened pencil and then, to my bug-eyed amazement, he walked to the front, tapped diffidently on the table and said his name was Lilienthal. David E., and did the gentlemen of the press have any questions?

Nobody thought then to ask him if he was a communist.

The years passed and the dams grew. Lilienthal's battles with Sen. Kenneth McKellar of Tenn. became history. I lost Lilienthal's pencil and though I read about him once in a while, I never saw him again until yesterday.

* * *

THE WAVY HAIR was no more; he was bald as a frosted light bulb and only slightly pinker. The loose tweeds were gone; now he was wearing a well-tailored suit of blue-gray flannel. Only his nose was the same. It was sharp as ever.

Day long he sat in the front row, as he'd sat for nearly two weeks, while a senate committee pondered his qualifications as chairman of the atomic energy commission. The committeemen, including Chairman Bourke Hickenlooper of Iowa, Tom Connally of Tex., Arthur Vandenberg of Mich., and others who wandered in and out didn't say much.

They left the talking to McKellar, who insisted that my pencil boy was a communist and hence no fit fellow to be in charge of the most dangerous weapon in the world. Lilienthal had denied this and, in fact, had made the statement a few days ago on his idea of Americanism, which would seem to be a small classic of its kind. This didn't bother McKellar. He kept pounding away.

* * *

FOR HOURS he questioned a small citizen, name of James L. Smith, who claimed he was fired as chief file clerk of the TVA because he was against communism, communists, and their newspaper, the Daily Worker, which he said they sneaked into the office, hidden inside copies of the Knoxville News-Sentinel.

The shaggy haired McKellar asked him if he'd ever heard of Lilienthal objecting to communism. Smith said he had not. Lilienthal was on the verge of smiling, but thought better of it.

McKellar's next witness was a Birmingham, Ala., cop, who had photostated some mysterious and missing letters he had captured in a raid on communist headquarters in Alabama. He recounted the circumstances in detail. McKellar asked him if he believed it wise to appoint to the atomic chairmanship a man who was not 100 per cent American.

"No sir, I do not," solemnly replied Police Lieut. Ollie F. Osborne. This time Lilienthal did smile. He almost laughed out loud. Sen. McKellar was not amused.

Partnership Wavers

IN ANY DISCUSSION of the problem of Britain's postwar difficulties, there is a tendency to assume that the British-American partnership is closer than it is. Mr. Byrnes and Mr. Bevin did on the whole work together almost always when there was issue with the Soviet Union, and generally speaking each government has given the other tacit, and now and then active, support within its sphere of influence.

The Soviet government has, of course, objected to this diplomatic collaboration, and some voices have been raised against it both in England and in America. It is now evident that an important object of Soviet diplomacy, is to draw Britain away from the American connection as the time for a European settlement comes nearer.

The mounting difficulties of the British position at home and in the empire will almost certainly have a determining influence on the outcome. For what the British people may wish to do, and what necessity could compel them to do, are not certain to be the same. It would be dangerously misleading to suppose that the working arrangements of Mr. Byrnes and Mr Bevin of the state department and the foreign office, are so well founded that they can withstand the disrupting effect of an economic crisis in British reconstruction and a forced liquidation --for lack of man power and money—of many of Britain's imperial and strategic commitments abroad.

Since the Roosevelt-Churchill period ended, British-American relations have seemed to be closer than they ever were. But in fact these relations have been extremely superficial, concerned with the transitory incidents of world politics, mainly when there was friction with Russia, rather than with the deeper interests and developments of the two countries—more a matter of teamwork from day to day among professional diplomats than of understanding by the heads of states and by the two governments as a whole.

* * *

FOR A LONG TIME neither in London nor in Washington has there been the kind of consultation which was carried on by Roosevelt and Churchill, Lothian, Winant, Hopkins, Marshall, Dill, Halifax, Keynes, Brand, and consultation which dealt with the deep strains and differences that have to be resolved continuously if the partnership is to work.

The realities of the British-American problem have been glossed over by the solidarity which has existed in opposing Soviet expansion. This solidarity is bound to be fragile. For when two powers work together only because they are opposed to a third, they can be separated and will diverge whenever the third power relaxes its pressure.

This in the last analysis was the fallacy of Mr. Churchill's Missouri speech, which, though it was never formally avowed by either government, was an indiscreet statement of the working thesis of the Bevin-Byrnes collaboration.

Heart Week Observed

THINGS I NEVER KNEW 'TIL NOW—This week the country is observing National Heart Week for the first time . . . And about time, too, because heart ailments are increasing faster than the family of an affectionate rabbit.

Latest estimates show there are about six hundred "weeks" proclaimed each year . . . Including all the silly ones . . . But this one deserves attention . . . In round, sad figures, more than 7,400,000 Americans are suffering from heart disease, arteriosclerosis (that's "hardening of the arteries") or high blood pressure, all related . . . Plenty of sufferers are your friends and relatives (even some of your pet enemies) . . . Far too many victims are your sons, daughters, nieces, nephews . . . This Thing is particularly tough on kids.

As a killer, heart disease makes War look as dangerous as a game of croquet. Disease of the heart and blood vessels is a killer as terrible as cancer It kills six times more than accidents or nephritis, seven times fore than pneumonia and claims ten victims to one for tuberculosis . . . Those are the next five leading causes of death . . . Heart disease is more lethal than all of them combined . . . It outranked battle deaths for Americans six to one during World War II.

* * *

DURING NATIONAL Heart Week the sponsoring American Heart Association has the hard job of impressing Americans with the awesome figures—then telling them to keep cheerful . . . Worry and fear are the "killer's" best little helpmates. On the other hand, a good belly laugh is swell medicine. A well-rounded out prescription is composed of equal parts of a happy-go-lucky attitude towards life and an avoidance of overweight, over-exertion, over-exposure and infection . . . Moderation is the word.

Rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease (remember, that's just one kind of heart trouble) is the leading cause of death among children between the ages of 5 and 19 . . . It is the second highest cause of death among youngsters from 19 to 24 . This twin-terror is responsible for about five times as many deaths as infantile paralysis, diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, measles and cerebrospinal meningitis combined! . . . For instance, in NYC in an average year, it kills over 30 times as many children as does polio.

One out of every five children who develop rheumatic fever dies within ten years . . . Two of the remaining five are forever limited in their activities; become vocational and community problems. . . . Proper care and conalescence of a rheumatic fever patient are something only a handful of families can afford . . . Maybe community effort should be organized to help.

ROWE SERVICES SET FOR FRIDAY

Funeral services for Robert R. Rowe, 43, who died Tuesday at Wilkinsburg, Pa., will be held at the Wappner funeral home Friday at 3 p. m., in charge of Rev. Carveth P. Mitchell. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Mr. Rowe was born in North Lawrence, O., Nov. 25, 1903, but came to Mansfield as a youth. For many years he managed the Sherwin-Williams Paint store here. For the past year he had been residing in Wilkinsburg, where he was an inspector for the Westinghouse plant. He was a member of Mansfield lodge, No. 35, F. and A. M.

Surviving are his wife, Kathryn Martin Rowe, his mother, Mrs. Jennie Rowe, of Mansfield; one brother, John Rowe of Washington, D. C.; three sisters, Mrs. Harvey Bowers of Mansfield, Mrs. Ernest Barber of Crestline and Mrs. Robert Roberts of Wheeling, W. Va

PRICE CHANGES DELAY LETTING OF CONTRACTS

City Holds Up Ordering of Supplies, Equipment.

Uncertain prices are holding up acceptance of numerous bids for contracts to supply the city with general operating equipment and materials, Service-Safety Director E. L. Morgan said today.

He said bids on eight of 15 items stipulate that prices at time of delivery will prevail if the bids are accepted.

Morgan said approval of the bids will be held up pending a conference with City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner and a general study to determine whether they are the best the city can expect.

Held up, Morgan said, are bids to supply the city with copper tubing, service boxes and corporation stops for the water department, fire hydrants, crushed stone, mason sand, coal, concrete, and vitrified sewer pipe.

Bids which involve no time-of-delivery price clause are to be considered for approval soon, Morgan said.

They include those to supply the city with water meters, liquid chlorine, crushed rock salt and gravel, slag, concrete pipe, asphalt, and construction machinery on a rental basis.

* * *

Meter Bids Range to $15.

Bids on the water meters range from $13.97 to $15 12 each. They were submitted by the Hughes Supply company, Mansfield, $13.97; Pittsburgh Equitable Meter company, Pittsburgh, Pa., $13.97; Badger company, Milwaukee, Wis., $14.07; Hersey Manufacturing company, South Boston, Mass., $15.12, and Buffalo Meter company, Buffalo, N. Y., $14 10.

Only bidder on the liquid chlorine was the Diamond Alkali company, Pittsburgh, $8 75 per 100 pounds; only bidder on the rock salt was the International Salt company, Scranton, Pa., at $9.40 per ton, and only bid on crushed gravel was submitted by H. W Fleck, Mansfield, $1.50 a ton. R. O. Darling, Mansfield, submitted the only bid on slag, quoting prices ranging from $1 to $1.85 a ton.

* * *

3 Bids On Machinery.

Bidding on the rental machinery contract were Darling, G. B. Herring and Son, and Fleck. Bids ranged from $5.50 to $6.50 per hour for bulldozers, power loaders, shovels, and ditchers.

The Concrete Pipe company of Ohio was the only bidder to supply concrete pipe. Prices ranged from 25 cents a lineal foot for six-inch pipe to $33.25 a foot for 96-inch pipe.

Bids to supply asphalt and road oil were submitted by the Mansfield Asphalt Paving company and Herring and Son. Offers ranged from nine and one-half cents a gallon for road oil to $9 per ton for asphalt concrete, including placing it on the street.

Bids being held up are those submitted on copper tubing by the American Radiator and Standard Sanitary corporation, Mansfield, .2305 per foot; and the Hughes Supply company, Mueller company, Hardware and Supply company, Akron, each of which submitted bids of .2509 per foot.

Other bids still being studied include those of the Hughes and Mueller companies on the service boxes and corporation stops, with prices ranging from $1.31 to $3 33;

On the fire tydrants, Darling Valve and Manufacturing company, Williamsport, Pa. $109 85; Hughes Supply, $109.90; Rensselaer Valve company, Troy, N. Y., $104.75; and the Hardware and Supply company, $97.50;

Crushed stone, Emmett W. Casey, Kallmerten and Baer, and Voegele Brothers, all of Mansfield, with prices ranging from $1.70 to $1.90 per ton;

Mason sand, Casey, Kallmerten and Baer, and Voegele, each $2 a ton; coal, Voegele, $6.31 a ton on one type; coal, Voegele and Casey, $9.67 on a second type;

Concrete, Ready-Mix Concrete, Inc., Mansfield and Kallmerten and Baer, $11.25 to $14.70 per cubic yard; vitrified sewer pipe, Kallmerten and Baer, Casey and Voegele, $34 to 52 per cent off list price.

OTTO FERGUSON DIES AT EPWORTH

Otto R. Ferguson, 79, member of a pioneer Richland county family, died at the Guiher Nursing home in Epworth Wednesday night following an illness of two years.

Mr. Ferguson was born on a farm in Weller township, March 10, 1867. He lived on the same farm until 1939, when he retired and moved to Mansfield, making his home at 386 North Mulberry street.

Surviving are two sons, Harry P. of Mansfield and Roy of Franklin township. His wife, Margaret Powell Ferguson, died in 1935.

Services will be conducted by Rev. F. H. Eckert from the Finefrock funeral home Saturday at 1:30 p. m. Burial will be in the cemetery at the Franklin Methodist church of which Rev. Eckert is pastor.

'SALEOSOPHER' OUTLINES 3-POINT PROGRAM FOR 1,000 MANSFIELDERS

By W. C. PETERSON

(Managing Editor, News-Journal)

A thousand Mansfielders became more aware today of the "little black book" of postwar America.

They were the members of the Retail Merchants association and their employes who filled nearly every seat of John Simpson auditorium last night to hear Elmer (Sizzle) Wheeler, president of the Tested Selling Institute.

The nationally-noted author and "saleosopher" emphasized three points around which to build the Mansfield of the future, as outlined by W. L. Faulkner, president of the Mansfield Retail Merchants association.

* * *

'All It Takes Is Hard Work.'

That program, Faulkner said, was to "make Mansfield the greatest shopping center in north central Ohio."

"It's as simple as this," Faulkner added. "All it requires is close cooperation and a lot of hard, hard work. Let's do it!"

He assured his thousand listeners that it was the intention of the association "to take advantage of every opportunity to make Mansfield the best trading post within 50 miles."

He promised a series of similar programs "to educate and to bring up to date the sales personnel of Mansfield."

* * *

Wheeler 'Do's' and 'Don'ts'.

Introduced by Sam Campbell, Wheeler launched into a series of humorous stories and illustrations of "do's" and "don'ts" that can make or break a community in the years to come.

"You've got an underground in Mansfield," Wheeler asserted. "You've got an underground filled with little black books in which it is writing down, 'I'm going to get you'."

* * *

Dramatizes Three Points.

His stories, bringing gales of laughter from the audience, all knitted together into a theme to dramatize these three points:

1. "Take an hour to say 'no.' Whether you're in business six months from today depends on how fast you say 'no' today Avoid the word 'no' if you possibly can, but if you must say 'no,' make it a sad 'no'."

2 "Don't ration courtesy. Be polite today when politeness is outstanding. Two years from today, politeness won't be outstanding."

3. "Look for familiar faces. Brother, you're going to kiss them two years from now. You might as well get used to it."

* * *

Other 'Saleosophies.'

Other Wheeler "saleosophies" "It's not too far away until we'll have two straws in every chocolate soda."

"You can't take the public for a ride; they'll get you every time."

"The chance of the small businessman being in business after this boom is the same as after the last five booms—it'll be four to one against you."

"Watch out that you don't build your white elephants of 1950."

ELMER (SIZZLE) WHEELER . . . beware the black book

38,888 ENJOY F. H. DURING '46

Attendance at Friendly House totaled 38,888 in 1946, Russell Gimbel, director, informed the annual meeting of the board of managers last night.

The attendance was made possible by 700 boys, girls and adults who attended more than 60 weekly activities. In addition, 350 non-registered members used Friendly House facilities for various meetings.

Six board members were re-elected for two-year terms. They were Mrs. F. J. Schuster, Donald S. Black, Norman L. Wolfe, J. William Bloor, Mrs. A. J. Goldsmith and Mrs. L. J. Schubert. Others on the board, who still have a year to serve, are M. P. Wolcott, Barbara Hartman, Mrs. R. E. Hutchison, Mrs. R. B. Moyer, Dr. D. A. Weir, John Gross, E. A. Porter and Mrs. J. L. Eberly.

Officers are Wolcott, president, Wolfe and Miss Hartman, vice presidents; Mrs. Schuster, secretary, and Black, treasurer. Advisory board members E. W Dann, W. McE. Weldon, R. E. Hutchison, C. L. Fernyak, Dr. Philmour Bein, Carl Sattler, E. P. Yocum and J. H. Hoffman, will also continue in office for another year.

Gimbel reported that during the eight weeks Hidden Hollow camp operated last summer 162 boys and girls spent 552 camper-weeks at the camp. This was an increase of 10 per cent over the previous year.

Total receipts for the year were $17,016.52. Expenditures were $17,273 67, leaving a deficit of $257.15.

Birthday Rhymes for Friends Brings Recognition for Poet

Mrs. V. C. Wyatt, 232 Rowland avenue, who began composing birthday rhymes for her friends 12 years ago, will see her works among those included in "Tribute of Triumph," an anthology of post-war verse to be released soon by the Exposition Press of New York.

Mrs. Wyatt, who writes under the name of "Gwen Wyatt," previously had her comments and verses used by W. Ward Marsh, motion picture critic of the Cleveland Plain Dealer and by Calvin A. Byers, whose "Farmer's Dairy" appears in the News-Journal.

"Writing is my form of relaxation, but I've never followed it extensively," Mrs. Wyatt said.

* * *

THE MOTHER OF FIVE added that the friends who received her verses on their birthdays urged her to branch out into commercial writing. A year ago, she wrote the lyrics for "Baby, You're Just the Ticket For Me," "Faith," and "Write Him a Letter."

"Faith" and "Write Him a Letter" made a hit with the publishers and will appear in the anthology.

* * *

ONE OF THE MOST humorous of Mrs. Wyatt's compositions is "A Big Wed Wucker and Hippity Hip Hip," which when translated means "A Big Red Sucker and Potato Chips."

"I got the idea for the verse when a mother asked her little girl to tell me what she had in a sack she was carrying," Mrs. Wyatt went on. 'She had a little trouble with the words and 'A Big Wed Wucker and Hippity Hip Hip' came out. I jotted down a verse later on and it was accepted by song publishers."

The anthology is a dedicatory tribute to those who fought for America in the last war and will contain a special section of biographical material concerning its contributors.

PROPERTY TAX PAYMENTS LAG

With just a week to go before the county real estate tax payment deadline, County Treasurer Charles C. Payne said today that $441,707 in property taxes are still unpaid and collections are lagging behind last year.

The treasurer said his office would be open next Saturday until 4 p. m. for the convenience of rural residents who can't get to Mansfield during the week. Taxes are due next Thursday.

A last-hour rush is sure to develop with only a little over half of the $916,343 tax bill paid, Payne said. The bill for the first half of the year includes $60,422 in delinquent taxes.

Payments so far are lagging about $14,000 behind collections at a corresponding time last year despite the fact that this year's tax bill is $300,000 higher.

Receipts yesterday amounted to $25,960.

Laff-a-Day

"What's your hurry, wrong number—haven't you any curiosity?"

NAME CHAIRMEN FOR RED CROSS

Three new chairmen were appointed to the volunteer staff of the Richland county chapter of the Red Cross at a monthly board meeting yesterday.

Frank Elias, chapter chairman, announced the appointment of Dean Eckert as finance chairman; F. A. Berkey, personnel, and Mrs. J. C. Gorman, blood donor chairman.

Five persons will serve on the finance committee with Eckert. They include John Ashbaugh, G. William Depler of Shelby, Harry Bowman, Dean W. Dickerson and Allen Bond. Berkey and Mrs. Gorman will announce their committees later.

Other committee chairmen who are retained were Mrs. Ephraim Brown, Junior Red Cross; W. J. Robbins, first aid; Mrs. Karl T. Langacher, home nursing, H. E. Shoemaker, home service, and Robert Black, house committee.

Employes' Ideas Worth Millions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The army reported today that it paid $6250 to three civilian employes at Wright Field, Dayton, O., for a suggestion that saved the government $27,000,000 a year.

The three were Frank Skrobak, William D. Durgy and Robert D Hoke, employes of the Air Technical Service command They proposed a new and economical way of packing aircraft parts for shipment overseas Since June, 1943, the army said, the ideas of civilian employes have saved $170,000,000 in operating costs.

Up and Down The Street

LINCOLN DAY BABIES—

Six babies born yesterday at General hospital will have something to brag about as they grow up and learn about Abraham Lincoln. They were born on Lincoln's birthday and during the month when many of the nation's great men were born. Five of the babies were girls. They were born to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sanford, 245 Park avenue west, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rabel, 19½ Baldwin avenue, Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews, 161 Crystal Springs avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Psimer, Geddes avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wall, 563 Lily street. The lone Lincoln's day son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fry, Bellville.

* * *

WRONG COIN—

County Treasurer Charles C. Payne was returning to the bank today a coin that at first appeared to be an American half dollar. Closer examination, however, revealed that it was a German five-mark piece. Payne discovered the coin among change received from the bank. Its similarity to a half dollar in weight, color and size caused it to slip by tellers unnoticed.

* * *

MEMORY AMAZES—

Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, speaker before the Business and Professional Women's club last night, provided an amusing interlude before his talk by naming almost every one of the 60 members present. During dinner, Rev. Peard conferred with Urith Funston, president, as to the identity of each member. He missed only one or two of the entire group. BPW club members were amazed at his memory and wondered how he did it. But Rev. Peard, it seems, has been doing it all his life. He can tell every member of his church who is not present at Sunday morning's services, he says.

Obtains Permit For Restaurant

A permit for the construction of a $3,500 restaurant building at 324 East First street was issued yesterday to Frank Parella, 214 East Second street. The building is to be 16 by 40 by eight feet in size and is to be constructed of cement or cinder blocks

Maurice W. Lewis, 42 Blanche street, was issued a permit to do $2,000 worth of remodeling at his home.

STATE HEALTH OFFICIALS ASK ESTABLISHMENT

Move Would Benefit Area Now Dependent on Individual Septic Tanks.

Dr. Fred O. Tonney, city-county health commissioner, said today that state health officials have recommended establishment of a Mansfield sewer district to provide expanded sanitation facilities for the city and area suburbs.

Both city and area officials long have recognized the need for providing adequate sanitation facilities for suburbs Most are now served by individually owned septic tanks.

In addition, because of the growth of Mansfield, its sewage treatment plant has been declared inadequate to handle all sewage emanating from the city.

Dr. Tonney said that a sewer district would be a political entity in itself and through special taxes provide sanitation facilities, such as sewers, treatment plants and possibly water lines, for a specific area.

The commissioner said he plans to investigate the state's recommendation to determine whether such a district can be established for the area.

First move possibly will be, he said, the establishment of a committee of representative officials to map preliminary plans for such a district

MUD MAY HALT RESERVOIR JOB FOR 2 MONTHS

Mud may force a 60-day work stoppage at Mansfield's Clear Fork reservoir dam, Mayor Roy W. Vaughn said today.

Whether to stop work will be decided Monday at a meeting with project engineers in Columbus, he said.

Recent snow storms have resulted in the project being "mudded down", permitting only limited engineering and inspection work which the city pays for on a monthly basis.

The mayor said the mud may force a temporary construction stoppage in order to insure that the city gets its money's worth.

Vaughn and Service-Safety Director E. L. Morgan will meet with Jennings-Lawrence company officials, project engineers at Columbus in an effort to determine whether it would be feasible to delay construction.

Construction of the $425,000 dam was launched last October. Unless work is delayed, it is scheduled to be completed in August or September of this year.

The $1,000,000 2,000-acre reservoir project, designed to triple the city's water supply, is expected to begin serving the city late in 1948 or early in 1949.

SCRIBE WRITES OF SUNNY CLIME

Cold waves come and cold waves go and the latest, having gone, leaves us only to write about sunny skies and rising temperatures.

The weatherman, in an especially cheerful mood today, came forth with the welcome prediction that he can't see a plunging thermometer within 200 miles.

In fact, he said, the mercury was heading for the 40's in the Mansfield area, and by tomorrow may reach the dizzy heights of the 50's. Saturday likely will be even milder and more pleasant.

Some cold air wandering about up in Canada didn't faze the weatherman a bit. He said it probably would miss Ohio by "several hundred miles."

That about winds up today's weather story Oh, yes, the high yesterday at Hayesville was 38, while the low was 24. OPS's Longview station told us it was 36 at noon today

Navy Given Lease for New Armory on Ashland Road

Mansfield's $300,000 naval armory was a step nearer reality today.

Contracts for lease of city land for the armory site were signed this morning in the office of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn. Lt Cmdr. A. E Heiser represented the navy, and Service-Safety Director E L. Morgan witnessed the signing.

Under terms of the contract, the city agrees to lease four and seven-tenths acres of land to the navy for a building site. Cost to the navy is to be $1 a year with option for renewal until June 1977.

The site is between the State Guard armory on the south, the Rocky Fork creek on the northeast and Ashland road on the northwest.

Cmdr. Heiser said signing of the lease will open the way for speedy action on the armory project. The lease will be sent immediately to the Great Lakes Naval station, headquarters for the Ninth district.

Bidding forms for the construction should be received here about March 15 and bids will be asked soon after that date, Cmdr. Heiser said.

Bidders will have the option of supplying their own materials, expedited by the navy or they may elect to have the navy furnish the materials, Heiser said.

Building should begin about April 15 and construction should take from 90 to 120 days, Heiser pointed out.

The proposed structure is triple-Quonset style, measuring 154 feet by 125 feet and will cost about $100,000. It will be one of the seven class "A" training centers in the state.

The structure will house some $200,000 worth of specialized navy equipment to be utilized in training the 200-man naval reserve. These devices include radio and underwater sounding equipment, destroyer boiler room and switchboard equipment and damage control mock-ups. In addition there will be metal and marine repair shops and a drill center. Eating, recreation and shower facilities will be provided.

The armory will set back some 75 feet fro mthe Ashland road. The grounds will be landscaped.

NINE BOUTS ON FOURTH AMATEUR FIGHT SHOW

Cuff Stuff

By Fred Tharp

OHHIO STATE'S clouded coachhing picture can be more than n clarified at the school's athlesetic board meeting tomorrow evening in Columbus. . . . For y years Ohio has stumbled along g having some of the best football teams in the nation but makinng life miserable for coaches who H have dropped crucial games. . . . Now the Bucks have a chancce to get out of the "dark ages" idea of guillotining a coach every time the High and Broad pressuure gets too great. . . . The board ll will act on the appointment of a nman to succeed Paul O. Bixler, wwho resigned to go to Colgate. . . . Wes Fesler, a favorite Ohio State athletic son, will get the nomination. . . . Fesler is a provemn coach and was picked last year to lead Pitt out of its athletic doldrums.

Thhis corner predicts that Fesler tomorrow night will be offered the first long term contract in the history of Ohio State football.

Otheer Big Nine schools have shown their willingness to keep coacheses around a long while and football mad Ohio State will follow suuit. . . . Fesler's contract will prrobably call for five years at thee helm, for approximately $13,5000 a season. . . . Plus the privilegge of picking his own assistantts.

* * *

NOTE THAT giving Fesler a long-teerm contract will lessen the pressuure applied by the rabid High street quarterbacks. . . . However, succh a contract would make the grimid teacher's job secure for a specilified period of time and allow himm to build up a team without tooo much outside interference. . . . Take the case of Bixler, a pretty fair coach. . . . He was makinggg $9,000 at Columbus and could hhave gotten more.

Howwever, the pressure and constaant demands on an Ohio State coach's time made life rough n for Bix, who is essentially a famimily man.

He hhas five children and the Colgatese job should go along smoothhly without interference from alumni and non-alumni groups. . . . Bix is well liked at Colgatese and the $10,000 annual stipend ll isn't hay. . . . Veteran Andy HHerr held the Colgate job for 18 years and will retire in June.

* * *

THAT AT THE BUCKS need a grid coach wwith a free hand to rule is table-tassalk in pigskin circles. . . . The 19447 season will bring Ohio its fifthth coach in seven years. . . . That isis too great a turnover to accomplplish much in the way of giving Ohio State a consistently tough tteam. . . . And the Ohio legislatuture is possibly the only law-mallaking body in the land that would pass a resolution recommendingg a coach to a state university. . . . The Ohio house of represen-natives asked Ohio State to give Paul Brown "every consideratiohon" in the appointment of a man to succeed Bixler.

Brownwn was not considered by Buck officials and would not pass up the lush Cleveland Brown job to go back to Columbusas as coach.

Paul draws a salary of $25,000 at Clevveland and made approximately $15,000 on a attendance bonus cclause. . . . However, intimates of Brown say that he would bbe happy to go back to Columbus. . . . But only if he were given thhe athletic directors job as well as the coaching post . . . That isn't the cards with the likeable Dirrick Larkins scheduled to replace L. W St. John in June, as athletic chieftian.

16 Cubs Head West

CHICAGO—(AP)—Eleven pitchers and five catchers will board a train tonight and head westward fomor the Chicago Cubs' training cammap on Catalina Island.

The pparty will include Traveling Secretarary Bob Lewis, General Manageer Jim Gallagher and 14 other nonon-players.

MILLER CAST IN HEADLINE RING BATTLE

Leather swingers on tonight's crack ring card at the Senior high auditorium figure to give Mansfield its best amateur fistic entertainment of the year.

Eight decision bouts and one exhibition go are on the all-star card arranged by the Friendly House and 40 et 8 club. It will be the fourth simon pure fight program of the 1946-47 season.

Arnold Tucker, outstanding ringman in the recent Akron Golden Gloves novice tournament, meets Mansfield's Art Miller in the five-round headliner. Miller has been showing to good advantage on F-H shows and defeated Bill Brock, former Akron GG champ, on the last card.

The other five-round affair pits clever Frank Truly, Friendly House welter, against Bill Buris, Akron.

Eddie Knapp and Tom Weaver, Mansfield boys who have appeared in main goes, top the supporting cast. Knapp battles Jack Seckinger, Marion, and Weaver collides with Olliss Levette, Marion.

The battle royal between six willing youngsters rates as a highlight. The lads will battle one round with hoods over their heads and one uncovered.

* * *

The card follows.

Ulysses Calloway, F-H vs. Tom Pandoff, F-H (3).

Lofton Fuque F-H. 138 vs. Jack Elliott, Mansfield Buckeye State A C., 137 (3).

Alverez Leads Toledo Cagers

Al Alverez, the fiery Spaniard from Toledo university, will lead his Toledo Collegians against the Nationally famous New York Renaissance in the Mansfield Senior high gym Monday night.

The cage bill promises to be the most imposing presented by the Mansfield City A basketball league this season. The Collegians, who are appearing instead of the Fort Wayne Electrics, have won 17 of 21 contests this year.

Hank Rigney, Toledo promoter, made the change because he figures that the Collegians can give the famed Rens a better battle. Only two of the present gang of Ren court magicians played here before the war. They are Sonny Wood and Puggy Bell.

Hillery "Cooney" Brown, former Harlem Globe Trotter captain, is a recent addition to the Ren lineup. The Rens have played in the Cleveland Arena twice this season, attracting a crowd of 11,000 on the first appearance.

Alverez is now coaching the Toledo Whitmer high school basketball team. He was assistant coach of the Bellevue aggregation which won the state Class A title two years ago.

Canton Battler Meets Angott

Jackie McFarland, veteran Canton welterweight, was signed yesterday to meet Sammy Angott in the Mansfield Armory ring Thursday, Feb 27

McFarland has battled all of the lighter swat guys in the beak busting business. Jackie twice lost decisions to Fritzie Zivic, former world welterweight boss.

Angott has held the world's lightweight championship three times and is embarking on another of his periodic comebacks. After two retirements, he came back to take the crown.

Promoters Rex Reese and Sam Miller have booked Angott and McFarland for 10 rounds and will probably add two six-round and two four-round bouts to the card

HERE'S THE GRIP—Sport Shirt Bill Veeck, genial prexy of the Cleveland Indians, shows Mansfield athletes and coaches proper grip to hit fast ball pitching. Veeck uses his cane instead of a bat. He had his right leg and foot amputated last year. It was injured by recoil of an anti-aircraft gun on Guadalcanal in 1944. Veeck spoke at the B'nai Jacob Men's club last night. Sport Shirt Bill Veeck Predicts First Division Berth For Indians

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

"We'll finish in the first division of the American league this year!".

It was Bill Veeck, the general dynamo who guides the destinies of the Cleveland Indians, speaking., Sport Shirt Bill last night addressed members of the B'nai Jacob Men's club at their temple on Sturges avenue.

Veeck believes that New York, Detroit, Cleveland and Boston will wind up in the first division with the Tigers possibly being the best of the lot. He feels that the Detroit club was tops in the league in the last six weeks of 1946 and that the loss of Hank Greenberg won't materially weaken the Tigers.

Detroit's wonderful pitching staff is the big factor in Veeck's reckoning. The Indians position in the top four will be determined by the success or failure of Cleveland in negotiating for a centerfielder and another starting pitcher.

Veeck is still keeping the wires hot trying to pry Stan Spence away from canny Clark Griffith of the Senators. Bill says he has offered the Old Fox everything except his topcoat and Bob Feller got that.

Cleveland has offered Washington Ken Keltner, Steve Gromek, George Case and Felix Mackiewicz for Spence, Walt Masterson and Roger Wolff.

The Indians regard Yankee Joe DiMaggio as the prize of the American league middle gardeners but Joltin' Joe is one thing that Larry MacPhail won't part with. Walt Judnich of the Browns was in the Indian outfield picture at one time. However, Veeck and Manager Lou Boudreau believe that Dale Mitchell who led the Texas league in hitting last year would do more good than the St. Louis wheelhorse.

Mitchell, a big and fast lad, may be a year away but he seems to fit better in the center slot than any of the other 12 outfielders on the Tribe roster. Hank Edwards, the ex-Mansfield Brave clouter, is set in right with chunky Pat Seerey the logical choice in left.

Commenting on Hank Greenberg's surprise departure from the league Veeck says he (Greenberg) was allowed to go to the National league Pirates because most junior circuit owners would rather see Hankus Pankus in other surroundings. Why Detroit ever turned Greenberg loose is still a big mystery.

MacPhail wanted to purchase Greenberg but Walter O. Briggs, Detroit owner, wouldn't let the big guy go to New York.

The Pirates offered Greenberg a better contract than he ever received with Detroit and the Sport Shirter figures that Hank will reconsider his decision to retire and play one more year of ball. After all, the Pirates went through with the deal in good faith and have made arrangements to shorten their left-field to give Hank a better target for those mighty home run blasts.

The Indians let Greenberg slide out of the league because they think they have a better man in Eddie Robinson, the Baltimore dandy, who led the International loop swatlers last year. And Eddie should be around a goodly number of seasons while Greenberg is on his last legs.

Joe Gordon, Boudreau and either Keltner or Joe Bockman, up from Kansas City, round out the infield with Jim Hegan and Al Lopez giving the Indians the best receiving staff in the majors.

Pitching will fall on the capable right-arm of Bobby Feller, baseball's highest paid performer, with Bob Lemon, Red Embree and Gromek completing the big four. Al Gettel and Mel Harder should give plenty of help.

Veeck is high on Lefty Bob Kuzava, the former Mansfield Brave, who led the Eastern league in strikeouts last year. He figures to give the Indians their best southpaw pitching since Al Milner departed.

Cleveland will take 52 or 53

Merchants Nap Ninth Straight 'Y' League Win

Shelby's Merchants maintained their undefeated record in YMCA Commercial B league play by downing the Phalanx fraternity, 45 to 36, at the 'Y' court last night.

Sands and Irey paced Shelby to its ninth loop victory. Each tallied 12 points. The Merchants led at the quarters, 11 to 9, 25 to 18, and 34 to 29.

Brodie Cigar store swamped Dominion Electric, 50 to 29. It was Brodie's sixth victory in nine games and gave them an undisputed grip on third place. Bowman, Brodie forward, tipped in 18 tallies.

Westinghouse upset the Ohio Public Service, 38 to 37. OPS had been tied with the Brodie quintet. Bowen, Westie forward, splashed 20 points through the nets.

After a first period 8 to 8 tie, OPS led at halftime 17 to 12, and 32 to 22 going into the final stanza. Westinghouse outscored OPS 16 to 5 in the final quarter.

Mansfield Plating smashed Mansfield Tire 28 to 19. The Plating five led at the quarters, 7 to 5, 13 to 9, and 20 to 13.

Smokehouse Club Takes City A Division Crown

Smokehouse clinched the first division title in the City A league by knocking off Ohio Sports Center, 36 to 28, at the Senior high gym last night.

In winning their ninth victory in 10 tilts, the Cuemen jumped in front 15 to 14 at half time after trailing 8 to 6 at the end of the first period. Smokehouse led 25 to 18 at the end of the third stanza.

Substitute Dean Duffey racked up 11 tallies to lead the Cuemen. Jack Elliot, Sports Center guard, led the scoring with 13 points.

Urschel Insurance defeated American Legion Post 72, 38 to 32, to move into a first place tie with Yunckers Sports in the second division.

Trailing 22 to 20, the Insurancemen came back to outscore the Legionnaires 18 to 10 in the last half. It was Urschel's sixth win in nine contests.

Ed Woodbury and Bunk Reynolds led the scoring with 13 and 10 points respectively for the Legion quintet. Jim Robertson was high for the winners with eight.

Richland Beverage captured its seventh win in nine tilts by turning back McCarrick's Gulf, 44 to 32. The Beverage five jumped into a two way tie with Komito's Clothiers for second place in the first division.

Dean Hahn, Richland, led the scoring with 14 points.

Crawford County Favorites Advance In Court Tourney

BUCYRUS—Favorites advanced as expected in the first round of the Crawford county basketball tournament which opened here last night.

Sulphur Springs had little trouble rolling over North Robinson, 66 to 19, while county league winner Holmes-Liberty was hardpressed to topple Leesville, 45 to 35. Charles Britton of Sulphur Springs led the scorers with 23.

Lykens defeated Whetstone, 57 to 43, and Tiro won over Chatfield, 33 to 21, in the other games.

The tournament resumes Friday night.

COURT ROUNDUP FEATURES RAM GAME SATURDAY

With Mansfield's Tygers invading the Massillon Tiger lair tomorrow night, the area spotlight again shines on the Madison Rams for cage activity. Massillon has won eight of 13 games.

Coach Jeff DeHaven's Rams seek the upset of the year when they play host to Ashland Saturday night. Madison has a record of 11 wins in 13 games while Ashland brings a 12 and two victory record with them.

Butler Favored.

In the Richland county league, Butler is favored to win its final loop contest at Bellville. Butler has captured 13 league wins.

Lexington travels to Lucas and hopes to protect its nine and four record and retain second place in the county loop. Other games in the league will have Coach Bob Lindsey's Plymouth quintet entertaining Ontario and Union at Shiloh.

The only change in the various individual scoring races was Herb Eldridge's advancement to first place in the Madison scoring. Eldridge forged past Pritchard with 66 field goals and 21 foul shots for 153 points, a 11.7 average. Pritchard has connected for 137 tallies for second place.

Rollin Ford maintained his lead in the county loop. The Lexington forward has netted 193 markers for an average of 14.8. Tommy Bloor is leading the Mansfield Tygers with 184 points. Bloor's average is 10.2.

Dogs Chase Coons At Loudonville

LOUDONVILLE—A coon chase will be held Sunday two miles north of Loudonville just off route 60, Charles Sidle and George Leaman announced today.

Entry fee for the chase is $2 with $100 prize for the winner. Lunch will be served on the grounds. Sidle announced that he will not be responsible for any accidents.

HEADACHE

Capudine contains 4 specially selected ingredients that work together to give quick relief from headache and neuralgia. Follow directions on label.

CAPUDINE

Do

FALSE TEETH
Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.—Adv.

Relief At Last For Your Cough

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

Creomulsion blends beechwood creosote by special process with other time tested medicines for coughs. It contains no narcotics.

No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough, permitting rest and sleep, or you are to have your money back. (Adv.)

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS
Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help Nature rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Kidneys may need help the same as bowels, so ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Morrow County Cage Tourney Opens Tomorrow on 2 Courts

IBERIA—The Morrow county basketball tournament promises to be one of the closest fought tourneys in years with six teams showing promising strength in league play.

Due to the increased interest of fans, the tournament will be played on the Iberia gym and the Johnsville court, simultaneously Friday and Saturday nights, Feb. 14 and 15, for the preliminary games.

In the opening game at Iberia Friday night the Edison Tigers are paired with the Iberia Presidents at 7:30 p. m. The Marengo Wildcats will also meet Sparta to complete the lower bracket play. The winners of these two games will play at Iberia gym Saturday night to determine the representative for the champion game to be played Friday night, Feb. 21.

In the upper bracket, Chesterville is slated to play Johnsville at the Johnsville gym on Friday night, Feb. 14, at 7:30. The Chesterville and Johnsville reserves will meet in the final game of the evening.

The Cardington Pirates drew the bye and will play the winner of the Chesterville-Johnsville contest, Saturday night at Johnsville, at 8:45. In the preliminary game the two losers of the Marengo-Sparta contest and the Chesterville-Johnsville game will meet at 7:30 p. m.

The tourney is conducted on a double elimination plan and the four first round losing teams will meet at Iberia Tuesday evening Feb. 18 at 7:30. The Tuesday night winners will play the first game Friday night, Feb. 21, to be followed by the championship game.

In the final event of the tournament, Saturday night, Feb. 22, the losers of the championship game will meet the winner of the consolation bracket to determine the second representative of the county to participate in the district tournament at Westerville.

Palestine Extremists Warn Of Reprisals Against British

JERUSALEM —(INS)— Retaliatory kidnapings by both extremist and anti-underground factions within the Jewish community raised new fears today of imminent internecine warfare among Palestine's Jews.

Members of the underground Irgun Zvai Leumi, which warned also of fresh reprisals against the British, last night kidnaped two Jewish youths who belong to the anti-extremist labor faction, Hasomer-Hatsair.

This abduction apparently was in retaliation for the earlier seizure of an Irgunist by Hasomer-Hatsair forces. A fire-raid by Irgun on the laborite headquarters Tuesday night served as a prelude to the sudden new developments, which occurred around Tel Aviv.

Some Jerusalem observers believed Hasomer-Hatsair is taking the lead in the Jewish agency's crusade against underground activities in the Holy Land. They believed also that it may signal the outbreak of a full-scale Jewish war.
